HOME-MADE BOMB BURST COSTS BOY BOTH HANDS

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 17-year-old youth lost both his hands Sunday when a home-made bomb exploded prematurely in the garage at his suburban North Burnaby home.

Police said the youth, Robert Langerstrom, apparently was about to ignite the bomb when it exploded while he held it. The explosion rattled dishes and windows in neighboring homes.

The youth was rushed to hospital where his condition was described as fairly good.

FRANCE RUSHES PARATROOPERS

Terrorist Gang Strikes in Algiers

From UP and AP Dispatches

ALGERS, Algeria—Premier Pierre Mendes-France today ordered three battalions of paratroopers to Algeria to deal with a sudden outbreak of anti-French terrorism.

At least 12 persons were killed in a well-organized, two-hour terrorist swoop on police posts and public buildings throughout Algeria early this morning.

Damage was caused by bombs and fire in at least 40 separate attacks. Telephone lines were cut and the Algiers-Constantine railroad damaged.

In another French North African territory, Tunisia, it was announced today that two French security guards had been killed and 10 wounded.

Rail Switchman Dies In Vancouver Fog

Transportation Facilities Tied Up
As Heavy Shroud Envelops Mainland

VANCOUVER (BUP)—A young Canadian Pacific Railway switchman, 24-year-old Ronald Candido, was killed when he was crushed between a box car and a platform today.

Candido apparently failed to see the box car because of heavy fog which enveloped the CPR yards.

The fog spread thickly over the lower mainland during the week-end, causing disruptions of air and sea transportation.

The fog caused numerous ship groundings, grounded aircraft and disrupted North Vancouver ferry schedules.

The worst fog of the season Saturday night was followed by a sunny Indian summer day before the white shroud fell over the area again near midnight.

The fog disabled both North Vancouver ferries while they were feeling their way across Burrard Inlet Saturday night.

The first ferry was taken off the route for installation of a new propeller when she struck a floating log.

Two deep-sea freighters, the inbound Montana and the outbound Java Mail, nudged each other Saturday afternoon as they passed under the First Narrows Bridge but the damage was slight and both ships continued on their courses.

The tugboat Palomar from Bellingham was escorted back to her home port after she sprang a leak off the Point Grey shoals.

The weather office said there would be more fog tonight.

A second ferry had to be replaced by another after banging into Burrard drydock while inching into the North Vancouver slip.

All traffic was grounded at the international airport after a Victoria-bound Trans-Canada Airlines plane cleared at 10:50 a.m.

Naval Rating Falls to Death In Drydock

Ontario Crew Member Victim of Plunge

Brian Alton Block, 19-year-old able seaman from Daysland, Alta., attached to HMCS Ontario was instantly killed when he plunged 50 feet to the floor Government Graving Dock at HMC Dockyard Saturday night.

The body was taken to Sands Mortuary for burial arrangements, naval officials reported. An inquest will be held this week with Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, presiding.

According to naval officials, the youth was returning to his ship after being on shore for a short leave.

After paying off his taxi, Block is reported to have avoided the safety railing along the edge of the drydock while trying to get back on the ship and fell headlong into the drydock, where the "Big O" is undergoing refitting.

He is the son of Mrs. Lillian H. Block of Daysland.

Death was due to multiple fractures. Block had only been in the navy a short time.

A naval inquiry was to be held this afternoon to probe circumstances of the fatal plunge.

Three other persons died violently in B.C. during the week-end.

Week-end mishaps killed Ray Fowler, Salmon Arm, killed when his car overturned; Mrs. Janet Plastino, 52, Vancouver, hit by a car near Abbotsford; and David Severinski, 22, who died when his tractor overturned in a water-filled ditch near Port Hammond.

Americans Go To Polls Tomorrow As 'Remarkable' Campaign Ends

Compiled from UP and AP Dispatches

WASHINGTON (UP)—The 20th century's most remarkable off-year election campaign ends today with President Eisenhower leading a Republican bid to create victory out of what seemed a few days ago to be probable defeat.

Tomorrow is election day. But most of the noise came from the campaigners themselves. Apathetic or just silent, the voters were showing few signs of enthusiasm on the eve of the election that will decide whether President Eisenhower will have a Congress controlled by his own Republican party or by the Democratic opposition.

The massive Republican effort was compressed within the final 10 days of the campaign. It came too late for results—if any—to be sensed by pollsters and pulse feelers. In fact, James A. Farley, former Democratic national chairman and an old political pro, maintains that events in the final two weeks of a campaign change few if any votes.

Aside from this, however, the campaign consensus has been that the 1954 Democratic tide was sufficient to shift the House and, perhaps, the Senate, to Democratic control when the 84th Congress meets next January.

Republican: Mr. Eisenhower and Vice-President Richard M. Nixon. CBS television 9 to 9:30 p.m.; EST (6:30 p.m. PST).

Democratic: Adlai E. Stevenson, 1952 presidential nominee, CBS radio 10:15 to 10:30 p.m.; EST (7:15-7:30 p.m. PST).

The great political debate began to quiet today after a Sunday of dispute between anxious partisans.

Meantime, Mr. Eisenhower had put in motion a call-your-neighbor telephone campaign to get out the vote. He called 10 Republicans and asked each to call 10 others. Project that through six groups, assuming all hands do their duty, and you've put in 10,000,000 telephone calls. Republican national committee headquarters said the thing was snowballing country-wide.

Mitchell's strategists countered with a "Democratic Walk-athon," in which he telegraphed party leaders and candidates asking each to walk to the homes of 10 persons urging election of a Democratic Congress.

The governor of Alaska was scheduled to meet with Premier W. A. C. Bennett this afternoon at the premier's office to discuss a wide-range of northern development.

Governor B. Frank Heinzelman told the Times from Seattle this morning that he had "nothing specific" to discuss, but he thought matters of "mutual interest" would arise during their conversations.

The plane which was to have brought governor Heinzelman to Victoria this morning was delayed because of heavy fog at Seattle airport.

One item certain to be brought up in the course of the talks is the possibility of extending B.C.'s PGE to Alaska sometime in future.

There has been considerable speculation that the premier's future plans call for eventual extension of the line to the Alaskan interior and on several occasions the matter has been discussed with top U.S. railwaymen.

The proposed Frobisher scheme, which may involve U.S. water resources, also was to be discussed in all probability.

200 Aircraft, 25 Ships Seek 42 Lost on Flight

From AP and UP Dispatches

NEW YORK—More than 200 planes and 25 surface ships criss-crossed a 120-mile strip of cloud-spattered Atlantic Ocean from here to the Azores today for a navy transport plane presumed to have gone down with 42 persons aboard.

The navy super-constellation, with four women and five children among its 21 passengers, has been unreported since 11 p.m. (EST), (8 p.m. PST) Saturday, 90 minutes after it took off from Patuxent, Md., for the Azores and Africa. Its fuel would have been exhausted at 10 a.m. (7 a.m. PST) Sunday.

In one of the greatest air-sea searches in history, navy, coast guard and air force planes soared above navy and coast guard ships on the turbulent seas seeking a sign of the giant plane or its emergency life rafts.

Crews of commercial ships and planes joined in the search as their craft crossed the broad Atlantic path of the downed plane.

In addition planes from England, the European continent and North Africa joined in the needle-in-the-ocean hunt. They swept back and forth across the 120-mile band on the 2,000-mile great circle route from the New Jersey coast to the Azores.

The aircraft carrier Leyte and the escort carrier Kula Gulf sent their planes aloft in the search.

Air force B-29's from Prestwick, Scotland, joined coast guard search planes from Argentina, Newfoundland, Bermuda and U.S. bases.

The search began at 1 a.m. Sunday after the plane had failed twice to make its scheduled hourly reports on position.

Navy spokesmen said it would continue until the secretary of the navy orders otherwise, presumably not until the last possibility of survival is exhausted.

LOST POSITION

The ill-fated flight was the second attempt made by those aboard to get to the Azores and Port Lyautey in Africa. The navy said they had taken off earlier Saturday in another plane but had to turn back 2½ hours later when the plane developed trouble.

The plane was last reported at 9:30 p.m. Saturday, and made only one position report—from about 480 miles east of Baltimore at 11 p.m.

Squall Ahead For Skipper Of Wash Tub

Bathtub boater Roy Bergo, 50, puttering toward Alaska with only 1,170 of his projected 1,200-mile trip left to go, is heading into a squall of angry Canadian officials.

Bergo left Whidbey Island, Wash., two days ago in a three-foot baby bathtub, 18 inches wide, and kept upright only by stovepipe pontoons welded to three sides.

He made Washington Harbor Sunday and had 18 miles left to go to Port Angeles today.

Tuesday, if the weather holds, he planned to bring the tub to Victoria.

RCAF search and rescue officials at Vancouver said flatly: "We don't think it is justifiable having to risk the lives of searchers if this crazy vessel gets in trouble."

"We don't intend to give him a plane escort, and we haven't a boat available. If we had, and used it for this purpose, we might jeopardize any serious rescue work which might arise."

An RCMP officer in Victoria said: "We don't want to have to use any rescue equipment on a stunt of this kind, but at the moment I don't see any way we can legally stop him."

He said he hoped the immigration department could intervene.

A spokesman for the department said nothing could be done at sea.

"We can't turn him back out in the straits. We shall have to interview him when he lands, like any other entrant. Until we do that I have no idea of what action we can take."

The majority report of a federal conciliation board issued in Ottawa today recommended against any wage increase for 750 employees of three west coast shipping companies.

It recommended, however, that overtime pay be increased to $1.32 an hour from $1.17.

The board was established last August to investigate a contract dispute between the Seafarers' International Union and the companies—the Canadian Pacific Railway's British Columbia coast steamship service, Canadian National Steamships and Union Steamships Ltd.

The union requested a 12½-per-cent wage boost and an increase in the overtime rate to $1.50 an hour.

The majority report also recommended that Union Steamships pay a subsistence rate of $2 daily to standby workers when no meals are made available, similar to allowances paid by the other two companies.

A minority report by the union nominee on the board said wages should be increased 10 per cent, a boost of $18 to $20 a month for most employees.

Dock Workers Strike Again; 3,000 Go Out

Resentment Against Truckers Leads to New Complications

LONDON (Reuters)—More than 3,000 dock workers, who returned to work today after taking part in Britain's month-long dock strike, quit work again this afternoon.

JUST for the RECORD

CHUMMY—From Saville row—a street traditionally associated with smart tailoring—came this story Sunday:

During his recent visit to London Emperor Haile Selassie, of Ethiopia, sent an aide around to a certain tailor to prepare him for a royal visit. The emperor wanted a suit made. The tailor took the news calmly but said he was puzzled how to address the ruler—emperor or your royal highness.

"What does his tailor in Ethiopia call him?" asked the Saville row man.

"As a matter of fact," confided the aide, "he calls him 'Skinny'."

HONESTY—In Farmington, Mo., Editor Jess Stewart of the Farmington Press has called on St. Francis county voters in an editorial to "clean house" by sweeping out all courthouse officials, including himself, in next Tuesday's general election.

Stewart, who is circuit clerk, said in his editorial "throw the rascals out" which was published last week that after "much soul-searching and self-evaluation" he decided to urge voters to support Gene Weible, his Republican opponent.

"Since time is money," editor Stewart wrote, "Stewart has in effect stolen from the county by dividing his interests between his county office and his newspaper—this newspaper."

UM-UM GOOD—In Tokyo university students add this bit to the growing folklore or ominous colloquialisms:

"They eat cigarettes. One student burns a 30 burning butt a day, says the Japanese press. The real taste can be appreciated only by the stomach, he asserts.

"Only to smoke is to waste," he says.

COMPLAINTS—Nudists, food and boogie-woogie dancers headed a list of complaints from East German vacationers published Sunday in the Communist party newspaper Neues Deutschland, Berlin.

One woman said her eye "in its search for beauty" had been repeatedly offended by the "rarely beautiful bodies" which appeared naked on the shores of the Baltic Sea.

Two visitors to Zingst on the Baltic said no menu was necessary in the main state-owned restaurant, "since for the past three years the only dishes to be had are cutlet, pork chop, goulash or sausage."

Visits to a dance hall at Hohenhausen were made "a doubtful pleasure" because of boogie-woogie dancers, a Weimar writer said.

Queen Mother Given Honorary Degree

Columbia University President Lauds Royal Visitor as Noble Queen Who Inspired World

NEW YORK (UP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth, her "quiet and constant courage" rewarded with an honorary degree from Columbia University, turned to the role of tourist today for a look at some of the city's sights.

The busy Queen Mother, whose visit here has included just about everything from shopping tours of Fifth Avenue department stores to street appearances in the teeming financial district, scheduled stops today at a Museum of Medieval Art and a day care center for children.

Tonight she will attend a Commonwealth ball after dining at the upper east side home of F. B. A. Rundall, British consul general in New York.

The Queen Mother wore a black academic robe over a gray and white print silk dress Sunday to receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from Columbia's president, Dr. Grayson Kirk. She was one of 44 men and four women honored by the university at its biennial convocation, attended by 7,000 persons in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine.

The procession included Adlai Stevenson, Chief Justice Earl Warren, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld, three Nobel prize-winners and several distinguished English educators.

Kirk was eloquent in his tribute to the queen, whose visit here resulted from an invitation last winter to take part in the ceremonies planned by Columbia for the 200th anniversary of the signing of its charter by King George II.

The university president cited the Queen Mother as "a noble queen, whose quiet and constant courage in time of great stress sustained a nation and inspired a world."

BATISTA WINS BY DEFAULT

HAVANA (UP)—Gen. Fulgencio Batista will be confirmed as president of Cuba today in an election whose outcome is certain because his only opponent has quit the race.

Ex-President Ramon Grau San Martin, the opposition candidate, withdrew his name from the ballot Saturday and urged his supporters to boycott the election which he called a "farce."

Sheppard Case Juror Tangle May Delay Trial

CLEVELAND, O. (UP)—James R. Manning, who pleaded guilty 11 years ago to a morals charge, asked permission today to be excused from the jury that is to decide whether Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard murdered his wife.

The request was made through Rev. George R. Naumann, Manning's pastor. He held a conference with Judge Edward Blythin before the trial started its third week. The minister said afterward that "nothing had come" of the conference.

Blythin said he "can't talk about it. It's ticklish and distressing."

Manning, a 38-year-old real estate salesman, admitted in 1943 to "occupying an automobile for the purpose of lewdness" with a 16-year-old boy.

It was reported that prosecution counsel had turned down a defense compromise offer. Sheppard's lawyers said they would agree to Manning's dismissal if the other 11 members of the panel also were excused.

That would necessitate drawing an entire new list of prospective jurors.

Pope Pius Symbolically Crowns Virgin Mary as 'Queen of Heaven'

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—It towards the way of salvation of the current Marian year, which it anxiously seeks. It was the greatest ceremony of devotion to the madonna.

Pope Pius symbolically crowned the Virgin Mary as "Queen of Heaven" here today in a grandiose ceremony inaugurating a new religious feast for the world's 400,000,000 Roman Catholics.

The feast of "the blessed Virgin Mary, Queen of Heaven" will be observed every May 31. The 78-year-old pontiff was borne shoulder-high through 300,000 cheering people to the basilica of Saint Peter, largest church in the world, for his first major ceremony since recurrence of agastric illness two months ago.

The Pope was followed throughout the ceremony by his personal physician. For hours the Pope wore heavy gold-embroidered robes and a golden mitre studded with gems. His face showed signs of his recent illness and subsequent relapse. But his voice was strong and his movements unhesitating.

Fifty thousand more people inside the basilica cheered and waved handkerchiefs and scarves as the Pope entered in a procession of 40 cardinals, 300 bishops and thousands of other clergy and members of the papal court.

Among those present were Canadians Emile Cardinal Leger, Archbishop of Montreal, and James Cardinal McGuigan, Archbishop of Toronto.

Ten thousand electric candles burst into light inside the basilica and silver trumpets sounded a triumphant march as the ceremony opened.

The Pope, speaking from his throne into two silver microphones, said the aim of the feast was to have "shine forth before the world's gaze a truth which... is capable of remedying its ills, of freeing it from its anguish, and of leading average price of these other five makes. Individual prices range from $229.50 to $299.00!

Zenith has always said you can pay up to $300 or more but you can't buy a finer hearing aid than a Zenith. To support this statement, Zenith requested the United States Testing Company to purchase on the open market two Zenith Hearing Aids and two of each of America's five foremost competitive brands of transistor hearing aids, and to test them thoroughly. Each of the instruments was subjected to a series of rigorous tests for quality, performance and economy. The results, contained in Report No. E-9158, dated September 13, 1954, tell us:

- Despite the huge difference in price, U. S. Testing Company reported, "The Zenith 'Royal-T' was equal to the other 5 brands in design, choice of materials and components, and in workmanship."
 - Here's how Zenith compared with the average of the other five brands in bringing you a full measure of acoustic power performance:
- | Acoustic output | ZENITH | OTHERS |
|-------------------------|---------|-----------|
| 135.5 db | 132 db. | |
| Maximum acoustic gain | 64 db | 60.8 db. |
| Surpass acoustic output | 131 db | 131.7 db. |
- The 3-transistor Zenith "Royal-T" cost $18.93 less to operate per year than the average of the other aids tested.
 - The Zenith "Royal-T" registered less objectionable noise due to clothing rub than any of the other five brands.

DIVERS WILL SEARCH FOR POWELL RIVER BOY

POWELL RIVER, B.C. (CP)—Two deep-sea divers will arrive here Tuesday to lead the search for a four-year-old Indian boy missing since Wednesday and believed slain.

The boy's uncle, Thomas Blaney, has been charged with murder in connection with the case after a piece of the boy's skull was found. RCMP said it had been blown off with a high-powered rifle.

Police said the victim, Ernest Blaney, was believed shot at a fishing camp 15 miles north of here and the body dropped at sea from a canoe.

Attempts of three Navy frogmen to locate the body were abandoned Sunday.

Immediate Application Planned to Cabinet For New Hearing on Wages and Arbitration

Officials of the B.C. Government Employees' Association will immediately file application for a hearing with the provincial cabinet to present new demands for arbitration and wage increases.

The meeting was promised the civil servants Friday by Provincial Secretary Wesley Black, who said "a date will be set as early as possible in November."

Association president Carl Hauck said at the close of Saturday's government workers' convention in Nanaimo that "we will waste no time in asking for the hearing."

The demands will closely parallel earlier requests placed before the cabinet, with the addition of a demand for appointment of Chief Justice Gordon Sloan to conduct hearings into civil servants' wages, if nothing comes of present wage talks.

VITAL FACTOR

However, the government workers feel they are in a much improved bargaining position than for many years. One reason is the extreme dissatisfaction shown by dozens of delegates at the convention.

On the first vote on a resolution calling for strike action, 38 delegates supported it. A later count found only 21 in favor of strike action.

Even though the resolution failed, it will constitute a vital factor in the cabinet's future action. For it was the first time in the history of B.C.'s civil service that strike action has openly been discussed on the annual convention floor, and found surprising support.

STRONG DISPLAY

Many delegates expressed the opinion that the government will not easily be able to "brush off" such a strong display of condemnation of existing wages and working conditions.

The convention, in its final sessions, approved a resolution calling again for an impartial board of arbitration similar to those which now settle teachers', firemen's and other "service" workers' wage disputes.

The civil servants asked that the results of such an arbitration board be binding on themselves and the government, in apparent contradiction of an earlier motion supporting non-binding arbitration.

Co-Workers Fete Hotel Employee On Retirement

Fred Burley, for 21 years night repairman at the Empress Hotel, was guest-of-honor at a surprise party at the Club Sir-oro Saturday night on the occasion of his retirement.

Staged by Local 276 of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and other members of the Empress Hotel staff, the party was highlighted with presentation of an engraved gold automatic wrist watch and a leather travelling bag to Mr. Burley.

The presentation was made by J. A. Bayless, vice-president of the local.

Halloween Plan Big Success

The "Save the Children" Halloween campaign, sponsored by the Children's Garden Library under direction of Mrs. W. W. McGill, received generous support from Victorians' Saturday night.

With 40 collection cans still unreturned, officials have already counted up a $1,203.67 total and are hoping to reach the $1,300 mark.

Nine hundred and sixty cans were distributed to children through Sunday Schools in the Greater Victoria area. The youngsters in turn, instead of collecting goodies for themselves on Halloween, asked people to make a donation to the "Save the Children" fund.

$15.70 IN ONE CAN

Mrs. McGill of the Children's Garden Library expressed satisfaction today.

"The response was wonderful," she told the Times.

Individual collections in some cases proved highly successful. One boy turned in a can holding $15.70; a girl collected $15.10, and another boy received $13.05.

Money collected for the fund will be forwarded to George Robinson, local representative of the organization. From there the money goes to the B.C. headquarters in Vancouver and thence to the world headquarters in London, Eng., where it will be used to buy food and clothing for needy children throughout the world.

At present the "Save the Children" organization is concentrating on helping Korean youngsters.

The fund, founded in 1919 by Eglantine Jebb in England, today is world-wide.

World Patron is Queen Elizabeth and the B.C. patron is the Lieutenant-Governor. Provincial honorary president is Dr. Norman MacKenzie of UBC.

Secretary-treasurer for B.C. is Mrs. L. M. Dryden, Vancouver.

Prove Dresden's Color Bar

Ruth Lor, left, Chinese-Canadian University of Toronto graduate, and Bromley Armstrong, Jamaica-born CIO official went into restaurants in Dresden, Ont. They were not served, even though the proprietors were recently called before a commission investigating discrimination in the town. After the hearing, at which restaurateurs flatly refused to serve colored persons, Labor Minister Charles Daley said the government would "forgive but not forget."

Although Ontario has an anti-discrimination law, the government attitude is that it is a matter of education rather than police action. (CP Photos).

Youth Electrocuted In Ontario Prank

By Canadian Press

Seventeen-year-old Leroy Cain was killed Sunday night at Maxville, Ont., in what police said was an apparent Halloween prank to cut off main street lights in this town 40 miles southeast of Ottawa.

The youth came into contact with a high-tension line at the top of a power pole and was hurled 20 feet to cement steps below. He was dead when police arrived.

Provincial Police were called to Streetsville, Ont., early Sunday to handle an outbreak of Halloween antics by about 20 youths.

Police said the youths began roaming streets hurling stones, soaping windows and shouting insults to residents of the village, 15 miles west of Toronto. Damage was estimated at hundreds of dollars.

A park concession booth was set ablaze, destroying a stove and soft drink cooler; an outdoor house was dragged onto the main street and set ablaze, then under the circumstances.

Campney Seeks to Cut Arms Bill Without Weakening Defenses

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—Canada's defence bills will be reduced in the next fiscal year compared with estimated expenditures for the current fiscal year, barring unforeseen developments, Hon. Ralph Campney, minister of national defence, told the Times in an interview.

The defence department is now compiling its estimates for the fiscal year 1955-56. The word has gone out from the minister's office to cut expenses where possible and Mr. Campney is determined to effect economies where it is possible to do so without weakening our defences, or interfering with Canada's commitments abroad.

"I am convinced we can make some reasonably substantial economies and we can accomplish this while at the same time we efficiently and effectively maintain our defence efforts," Mr. Campney said.

NO DRASTIC SLASH

He warned, however, that it was not his intention to impose drastic cuts in defence expenditures. There would be no wholesale slash in the defence budget. This could only be accomplished at the cost of weakening Canada's defences and the minister has no intention of adopting such a policy.

"But the defence effort has gone through the rapid expansion and quick build-up stage. It is now settling down, having passed through the formative stages. As a consequence I am convinced that we can make some savings as we go through a department as large as this one seeking ways of effecting economies," the minister said. The defence budget for the current fiscal year ending March 31, 1955, called for an estimated total cash outlay of $2,010,000,000. Mr. Campney would make no estimate of how much might be pared off the defence estimates for the ensuing fiscal year.

NO ILLUSIONS

The minister is under no illusions about the difficulties that immediately confront the administrators when they seek to make substantial reductions in expenditures. However with the government's finance department confronting a deficit and a fiscal deficit looming for 1955-56 the defence minister's hand is strengthened when he issues instructions to cut expenditures. The treasury board will scan all estimates thoroughly and where the departmental officers have overlooked places where savings might be made the treasury board will be quick to make the cuts.

Big 3 to Meet

To Draft 'No' Notes to Reds

Shaw, President Of Auto Speedway, Killed in Crash

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States, Britain and France will meet in London shortly to draft formal notes rejecting Russia's call for an early Big Four conference on Germany. Informed sources said today.

The drafting session may get underway this week with a team of Big Three experts. The aim will be to bar Big Four talks until after the new allied agreements on Germany have been ratified.

It was understood the Big Three will be careful not to rule out a possible future meeting with the Russians after the German agreements have gone into effect and given the Allies a stronger bargaining position.

What You Say, How You Say It, Can Make You More Popular

A publisher in Chicago reports there is a simple technique of everyday conversation which can pay you real dividends in both social and business advancement and works like magic to give you added poise, self confidence and greater popularity. The details of this method are described in a fascinating booklet, "Adventures in Conversation," sent free on request. According to this publisher, many people do not realize how much they could influence others simply by what they say and how they say it. Whether in business, at social functions, or even in casual conversations with new acquaintances, there are ways in which you can make a good impression every time you talk. To acquaint more readers of this paper with the easy-to-follow rules for developing skill in everyday conversation, the publishers have printed full details of their interesting training method in a 24-page booklet which will be mailed free to anyone who requests it. The address is: Dept. 3728, Conversation Studies, 835 Diversey Parkway, Chicago 14, Ill. A postcard will do.—Adv.

British Columbia's Debt

AT THE PRESENT RATE OF reduction, says Mr. Bennett, the public debt of British Columbia should be paid off entirely in ten more years. This statement may have impressed the recent Social Credit convention. It will hardly impress anyone familiar with the Government's finances.

In the first place, Mr. Bennett blandly assumes credit for a debt reduction of some $52 millions since he took office. As was proved by argument in a Victoria by-election just a year ago, some $30 millions of this repayment was made with money saved by the former Johnson Government.

The more important fact which Mr. Bennett ignores is that while reducing debt with one hand his Government is preparing to increase it with the other. Some $60 millions, it is said, will be borrowed to build the extended Pacific Great Eastern Railway. The cost actually may greatly exceed that amount. One item of new borrowing, therefore, will more than cancel out the reductions of the last two years.

Secondly, the B.C. Power Commission must continue to borrow large sums for the expansion of electrical services. Mr. Bennett may say that this does not represent provincial debt since it is contracted by an independent body. He may properly say that a power debt is serviced by the assured revenues collected from power users. Nevertheless, every dollar borrowed by the Power Commission is underwritten by the Government.

Pull Together on the Library

THE MUNICIPALITIES WHICH help to pay the Victoria Public Library piper want some say in calling the tune. That, it appears, is the basis for current dissatisfaction voiced by Saanich and indicated by Oak Bay in the present library discussions.

Unhappily the debate takes place against a background of long-standing dissension on the rights and obligations of junior members of the Greater Victoria family in connection with library service. These prior disagreements have created in certain quarters the feeling that some interests seek only release from, or reductions in, the amount different municipalities must pay—without regard to library responsibilities.

This is an unfortunate implication that could be removed very simply. It lies within the library board's power to extend voting privileges to representatives of municipalities making fair contributions to the library. Extension of such privileges, authorized by special legislation at the last session of the Legislature, would not take control of the library out of Victoria's hands. The city would still command a voting majority. But it would give the others a chance to make their influence felt in determining policy. The board could, in other words, eliminate the paraphrase of no taxation without representation by a very simple act.

It seems at this point that the board should lose no time in following that course. The municipalities have a compelling argument for the vote in the payments they make for service and toward the cost of extending the old building. Those payments are based on the percentage use made by municipal residents of the library facilities—in Saanich's case about 21 per cent.

If the debate on the library degenerates to another of those interminable wrangles between members of the Greater Victoria family, then the chief sufferers will be the library itself and those who use it, be they resident in the city, Saanich, Central Saanich, Oak Bay or Esquimalt.

Whether the protection of the court will prove adequate in the future remains to be seen. If not, the leading sprinter in this matrimonial hare-and-hounds episode has only one other recourse. It is reported that he has a fiancée, who no doubt takes a dim view of the brunhette's enthusiasm. All the quarry need to do, to be sure, is marry his chosen, then sit back and let his new guardian take over l'affaire brunhette in her own capably protective hands.

It strikes one as odd that the young bachelor has not thought of this and taken action. Unless, of course, he already has done so, and his meditations have been mingled with other thoughts of frying pans and fires.

and some of the kids would drink the soup while others would send it back almost untouched. It became harder and harder to get mothers to turn up at the school more than two or three times in as many months. All sorts of doubts began to split the Hot Soup Faith into warring factions composed of the orthodox, the heretics, and the outright pagans. And hot words began to mingle with the hot soup.

THIS schism troubled the faithful all through the soupsup summer months, and at the first meeting of the autumn the association was asked to discuss the matter in full. I believe the technical term is "thrashing this thing out." And I must say the pagans and heretics were thrashed indeed. The pagans and heretics made the bad mistake of trying to talk sense, and that wasn't what the meeting wanted to hear at all. For example, a woman doctor got up and said the nourishment in the soup and cocoa wasn't very important to a child who had a good breakfast and supper at home and a sensible lunch in his box, but she was more or less told to stick to the point!

I am glad, for her sake, that the doctor didn't draw the mothers' attention to the amount of caffeine and theobromine in cocoa . . . about 11 per cent of the former and about 22 per cent of the latter of these alkaloids. Many doctors don't like kids to lap the stuff up. But if she had mentioned this she might have been lynched. A dentist said he didn't like children to have sweet cocoa lingering in their mouths, and the meeting dismissed this childish quibbling with the contempt it deserved.

A GOOD many mothers said they felt the poor waifs should have a hot drink to, prepare them for the long, cold bus ride home at 3.15, and when a skeptical mother asked how a hot drink at 12.00 can warm you at 3.15, she was given murderous looks that frightened her back into her senses, and she kept quiet after that. Another mother said that on a chilly day the school furnace was lit, and on a cold day the children stayed indoors at noon, so why all this talk about frostbite? And really, the wave of public resentment that rose up and knocked her down was something that made her wish she had a hot drink.

The meeting decided, by democratic vote, to continue the cocoa and soup. The most democratic thing about the vote was the way the fathers voted too . . . they voted to have the mothers do the work. Having no chance to work at the school on weekdays themselves, they were able to take an objective and unemotional view of the problem; with nothing personal creeping in to mar their concept of the hot drink theory.

KORREKT
A NINE-YEAR-OLD pal of mine keeps a scribbler for Spelling Corrections. I will give you 492 guesses as to how he spells Corrections. No, to save you 492 mistakes, I will tell you now: the scribbler is entitled CERECOSINS. I think he'll need more than one scribbler.

WELL, as I say, the mothers decided last year to serve hot soup and hot cocoa every day at noon to any kids whose parents felt they would be improved by these steaming mugs. Two or three mothers would go to the school every morning and work very hard, and carry heavy trays up and down stairs.

Mr. Johnson's argument is of interest to the constitutionalists, but it provides only a partial of the explanation of a situation which can arise in any nation or any community to the shame of all decent-minded people.

Stolen Away!

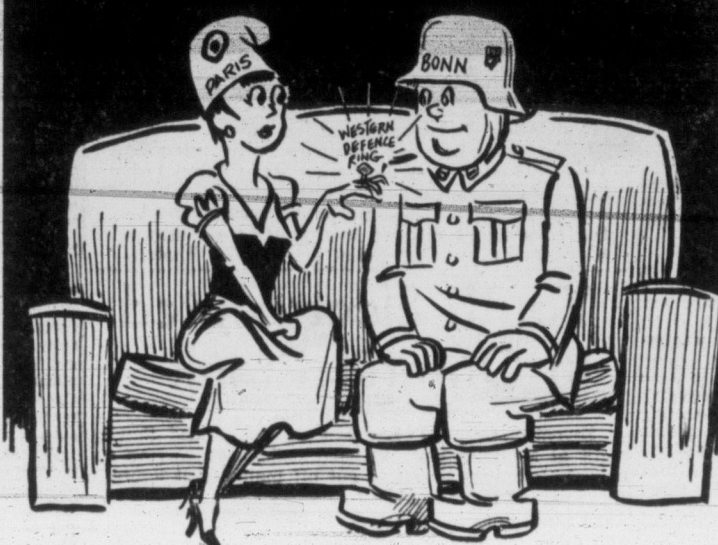

THE PLIGHT OF A YOUNG bachelor of New York who has been pursued for the last two years by an energetic brunhette, forcing him at last to seek the protection of the court, is one to stir the pity of all oppressed males.

In running to court, the unwilling quarry has resorted to the only form of assistance he could readily find. In olden days harassed knights were wont to seek sanctuary in a church. But by so doing under the present circumstances the poor bachelor would have sealed his fate. For the path up the aisle to the altar would have proved to be executioner's walk for the bewildered young man. He would have fallen into the very trap from which he was fleeing.

Whether the protection of the court will prove adequate in the future remains to be seen. If not, the leading sprinter in this matrimonial hare-and-hounds episode has only one other recourse. It is reported that he has a fiancée, who no doubt takes a dim view of the brunhette's enthusiasm. All the quarry need to do, to be sure, is marry his chosen, then sit back and let his new guardian take over l'affaire brunhette in her own capably protective hands.

It strikes one as odd that the young bachelor has not thought of this and taken action. Unless, of course, he already has done so, and his meditations have been mingled with other thoughts of frying pans and fires.

The Western Cupids

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

I CAN get as sad as any of you when I think of November. At the same time, I have nothing but admiration for the man or woman who can get pleasure from all seasons and from all weathers. I should like to be such a man myself, and my failure to achieve this ambition completely is the measure of my character—or lack of character. When I say "such a man," I do not mean a contemptible little Pollyanna of a person—the sort of chap who invites you to "laugh it off" when you get your feet wet, or who can see the sunny side of pneumonia. Neither do I mean the man who actually enjoys being miserable. Any fool can make himself uncomfortable as the Guardsman said when the Guards were criticized for making a decent camp.

N.O. I mean the man who likes November for the foods that belong to November, and the skies and colors that belong to it, and the longer evenings and bigger fires, and all that. Including the look of the trees on a November afternoon. I refer to deciduous trees, of course. Evergreens don't pay much attention to the seasons. They are like people who have a home freezer and eat fresh spring vegetables in November, so that the seasons have lost their chiefest joys and are not seasons any more. I'm afraid evergreens have no souls, or very small ones, and you can tell that to the soul of Emily Carr. Sometimes I think Emily Carr agreed with William Blake, who told Crab Robinson that Nature is the work of the Devil.

I SAID last week that I would tell you very soon about a comical meeting of a certain Parent-Teacher Association. That time has come. Oh, what are you not now about to hear? "Listen, my children, and I shall say just what goes on at the P.T.A." Never heard the like. Last year, the mothers of this society felt it rather rotten that the school had no proper lunch-room facilities. (It isn't a very big school.) It didn't seem very progressive for the children to lack hot lunches, though I am told several children brought hot drinks in thermos flasks and a few brought hot food. (I realize that Thermos is a trade-name, but I hope you and its owners will let me use it. I don't know what else to call the bottles. As I pointed out last summer, the word Tabloid is also copyright, and so are Vaseline and Dynamite and Aspirin, and many others, but I'd like to see you get along without them.)

WELL, as I say, the mothers decided last year to serve hot soup and hot cocoa every day at noon to any kids whose parents felt they would be improved by these steaming mugs. Two or three mothers would go to the school every morning and work very hard, and carry heavy trays up and down stairs.

Many doctors don't like kids to lap the stuff up. But if she had mentioned this she might have been lynched. A dentist said he didn't like children to have sweet cocoa lingering in their mouths, and the meeting dismissed this childish quibbling with the contempt it deserved.

A GOOD many mothers said they felt the poor waifs should have a hot drink to, prepare them for the long, cold bus ride home at 3.15, and when a skeptical mother asked how a hot drink at 12.00 can warm you at 3.15, she was given murderous looks that frightened her back into her senses, and she kept quiet after that. Another mother said that on a chilly day the school furnace was lit, and on a cold day the children stayed indoors at noon, so why all this talk about frostbite? And really, the wave of public resentment that rose up and knocked her down was something that made her wish she had a hot drink.

The meeting decided, by democratic vote, to continue the cocoa and soup. The most democratic thing about the vote was the way the fathers voted too . . . they voted to have the mothers do the work. Having no chance to work at the school on weekdays themselves, they were able to take an objective and unemotional view of the problem; with nothing personal creeping in to mar their concept of the hot drink theory.

KORREKT
A NINE-YEAR-OLD pal of mine keeps a scribbler for Spelling Corrections. I will give you 492 guesses as to how he spells Corrections. No, to save you 492 mistakes, I will tell you now: the scribbler is entitled CERECOSINS. I think he'll need more than one scribbler.

WELL, as I say, the mothers decided last year to serve hot soup and hot cocoa every day at noon to any kids whose parents felt they would be improved by these steaming mugs. Two or three mothers would go to the school every morning and work very hard, and carry heavy trays up and down stairs.

Mr. Johnson's argument is of interest to the constitutionalists, but it provides only a partial of the explanation of a situation which can arise in any nation or any community to the shame of all decent-minded people.

As Our Readers See It

AGAINST AID

I wholeheartedly support the Protestant delegation's attitude against aid to separate schools. Why should the people be taxed to support separate schools when the government is already providing schools that all Canadian children can attend. If the public schools (for which we are taxed) are not good enough for Roman Catholics or any other religious body, then let them pay for their own education.

It is not altogether the education of those children we are asked to contribute to. We are simply being asked to support the Roman Catholic Church.

And what kind of learning do children get in those schools? It is more religious than scholastic.

Here is an extract from "Who's Who in America" from the religious angle. In 30,000 names therein contained the Unitarians have 1,185 per 100,000; Episcopalians 156 per 100,000, and a large proportion of these are merely church officials or people of wealth and social prestige.

Roman Catholics (of the richest church in the world) have 7 per 100,000. But I am strongly against religious teaching in our public schools.

School curricula are getting more complicated all the time and I think our school teachers have enough to do without teaching religion. Why should they be saddled with duties that belong to the church?

If the preachers and Sunday school teachers cannot give the children enough religious teaching it is a sad commentary on that body. They might as well close their doors and write on their "failure." And as a taxpayer I object to the taxes I pay being spent that way.

Why should freethinkers or atheists be taxed for the propagation of religion? W. FYFE.

SPOKEN FOR STUDENTS

Who would best be able to answer the Reverend Mr. Robertson's charge "that the teachings in Roman Catholic schools are against tolerance for any other religion or church" but students in a Catholic school?

After eleven years in a Catholic school we can state definitely that we have been taught nothing but tolerance and respect for other religious beliefs. Although a minority, the non-Catholics attending the school are never obliged to attend Catholic religion classes or services. Their religious ideals and opinions are always respected.

As to the Reverend Mr. Robertson's second statement "that provincial recognition of Roman Catholic separate schools will stress and add to the divisions among us as Canadians" we wish to make clear the fact that Roman Catholics are obliged by their faith to be good citizens. Good citizenship includes justice and tolerance to all, which are both unifying powers in any nation.

In the catechism of religious doctrine which children are required to memorize are found the following questions and answers:

"What are the duties of a citizen towards his country?"

"A citizen must love his country, be interested in its welfare and respect and obey its lawful authority."

"How does a citizen show his interest in his country?"

"A citizen shows his interest in his country by voting honestly, paying just taxes and defending his country's right when necessary."

Could, then, one say logically that Catholic schools would add to disunity?

The Catholic Stand on Schools

In your editorial of Thursday, Oct. 28, entitled "B.C. and Separate Schools," you refer to the fact that a three-man delegation representing the Protestant League have placed before the Cabinet a strong protest against the granting of educational minority rights to the Catholics of B.C.

You fail to mention the fact that the Protestant League have never opposed the full educational rights which the Protestant minority in Quebec enjoy. You also fail to mention that the first request for minority rights in education in Canada was made by the Anglicans in Quebec in 1841 and was immediately granted.

Dr. C. N. Crutchfield, who is president of the Association of Protestant Boards in Quebec, speaking before the public school trustees in Hamilton, Ontario, on October 19, 1951, had this to say: "We Protestants, as you know, are in the minority, but are not separatists. We have our own public schools, our own secondary schools and our own department of education . . . The vote for education in the year 1950-51 was $46,675,000; of that part of the grant allocated to primary and secondary schools, the Protestants received 16% of it, although our Protestant population is less than 10% of the whole . . . you can readily understand that we have very little cause for complaint."

The very title of your editorial is deceptive since the Catholic schools did not separate from the government schools in B.C. but rather they preceded them. The first Catholic schools in this province date from 1849. Later when it came time for the setting up of government schools the Church of England schools were defined by the Provincial Government as the official public schools. Catholic schools were given no official recognition and to this day no portion of the educational taxes which Catholics pay.

This question is not one of preference as you call it. For we have a strict obligation in conscience concerning the Christian education of our children, and further it is a question of parental rights. The Universal Declaration of Human Rights states in section 26, "Education shall be free and parents have a prior right to choose the kind of education that shall be given their children."

You deal in a most biased manner with the majority report of the Hope Commission in Ontario. You do not mention that every political party in Ontario officially rejected those sections of the Hope Report to which you refer.

As Catholics we do not object to paying our full share of educational costs. We have never asked for one cent of non-Catholic money to finance our schools, but we do object to and as a matter of fact, we no longer able to subsidize the education of the rest of the province as well.

The British Columbia Catholic Educational Association was formed to protect the educational rights of Catholic parents of whom the great majority work at manual labor, as I myself do, and we cannot afford to have our income, which in many cases is already insufficient, further decimated by this method of discrimination. Lord Acton said, "The test of a democracy lies in its treatment of its minority."

If and When They Talk

BY WALTER LIPPMANN, From Paris

IN regard to the Big Power talks, which the Soviet Union is again proposing, there is no intention anywhere of refusing them. But there are two main questions. When shall they be held? What shall be talked about?

In regard to the timing of the talks, the accords signed a week ago in Paris have settled one thing—definitely, that they must come after ratification. Until the new accords were reached, the way was open to proposals by the Soviet Union for the negotiation of a German peace treaty ahead of, and indeed in place of, a West European system, which includes West Germany. Serious proposals of that kind made after the French Assembly rejected EDC in August would have made it impossible to negotiate successfully at London and Paris. The proposals would have had a commanding priority in German, in French, and in a large section of British opinion.

But the Soviet Union made no such proposals, thereby demonstrating again what the Berlin conference of last winter had shown—that they do not now intend to reach an all-German settlement which requires the relinquishment of Eastern Germany. The opportunity to negotiate about Germany was obvious throughout September as Mr. Molotov in fact admits in his latest note. But he did not seize the opportunity.

RATIFICATION FIRST
For these reasons, anything they may now propose about Germany can be made a negotiation only after the Paris accords have been ratified.

They have lost, they have rejected, the opportunity to raise the question of more of whether a Western system shall be organized. The priorities have now been reversed. Ratification of the Western pacts has priority over discussion of an all-German settlement. For it is now quite plain that until the new accords are ratified, the result of talks would not be to unite Germany but merely to disrupt the West.

When we come to the question of what to talk about when we talk, it may be said that the new accords provide a concrete basis for small, useful, unspectacular negotiation.

The Soviet note argues that because these accords tie Western Germany to Western Europe, they are in contradiction to the idea of German unity. For the time being that is true. But what is even more in contradiction tion to the idea of German unity is the manifest policy of the Soviet Union to hold on to Eastern Germany. Until and unless this policy is altered, any European arrangement will have to accept as a fact the division of Germany.

At least since the June uprising of a year ago, there has been no reason to doubt the Soviet decision to remain in Eastern Germany. That decision cannot be changed now by a negotiation with the West. For there is nothing the West can offer the Soviet Union which is nearly so valuable as the possession of Eastern Germany.

When East-West talks do take place, the subject of these talks will have to be—not the reunification of Germany but—how to relax the tension in a divided Germany. That will almost certainly be the theme of the coming diplomatic negotiations. How can the powers facilitate trade and intercourse between East and West Germany, between East and West Europe?

SECOND STEP
And after that, the talks might turn to the possibility of a reduction of the tactical forces now arrayed against one another along the Iron Curtain.

The new Western accords bring the tactical armaments of the Western continent under international limitation. It is not inconceivable that a reciprocal arrangement could be made in Eastern Europe, and that the two limited and controlled military systems could then agree on a progressive reduction of their forces.

This is the most probable direction in which things can be made to go, assuming they go well. No dramatic overall settlements—global or even continental. But a lowering of barriers, a removal of inspectors and check points, a reduction of forces, a relaxation of tension. This has been happening in Austria. It appears to be happening in Korea. It could be what is going to happen in Germany.

We must always distinguish between treason and ideas. We have nothing to fear from ideas. Our defense against shabby or false ideas is more ideas, free inquiry and free discussion. Communist ideas have never appealed to more than a relative handful of our people, because our people traditionally have been unwilling to turn over their minds and consciences to someone else.

Mother's Day Off

OCTOBER 20 was this mother's day off. I spent it gadding round with the Bookmobile.

Officially, I went as a member of the press, since the Bookmobile's main purpose is not just to provide jaunts for jaded mothers. Actually, I went as myself, doing the sort of thing I like to do, and anxious to find out whether the Bookmobile means as much to other groups in Saanich as it does to the families who live in our particular district.

Ruth

It was a wild, wet morning when we started and our first stop was at Brentwood opposite the store at the bottom of the hill. The rain was beating down and gathering on the skylights, and outside the world was wild and wintry.

But, inside, the lights were on, the Bookmobile was warm and all was pleasantly civilized.

In no time at all, and seemingly from nowhere, a crowd of book borrowers appeared. Crouching behind the check-in counter by the driver's seat, I got a quick impression of country gumboots, slickers, mackinaws, kindly faces, neighborhood news, and a sense of something pleasant to brighten up a dull and dreary day.

At the next stop, not very far away, the feeling was the same—a rush of people, an atmosphere of welcome and enjoyment, and an eagerness to get and handle books.

"This used to be one of our slowest stops," said Miss Payne. "One person on our first trip, and I think, none at all on the second. And then, suddenly, it grew by leaps and bounds."

I looked at the mess on the floor of the van—wet footprints of rubber boots, mud and fir needles from the tree under which we'd parked at the first stop.

"Who cleans the Bookmobile?" I asked. All my domestic instincts rising to the surface.

The driver said that he did, on Thursdays, the day the Bookmobile stays home. He showed me the place where the vacuum plugs in, and I had a lovely vision of him getting into all the corners. After vacuuming, he said, came washing, waxing and polishing.

The third stop was at the school. The Grade Ones came first with their wonderful tooth-missing grins. And then the Grade Sixes, and after that the others, room by room.

"You look a husky fellow," I said to one boy. "You aren't a One or Two. What are you? Grade Four?"

"Grade Six," he said with brief politeness, and I could tell I'd asked an idiotic question.

And this was the stop I liked best of all. People who worry about the younger generation, haven't seen country children crowding into the Bookmobile on a wintry day. They were polite and eager and interested. They were oh! so anxious to get their business of the cards quite right.

And after the school, came the Women's Institute with older borrowers. And after that, the corner grocery store.

And when I finally got home, my head was whirling with impressions; the elderly man with the rucksack; the woman with the rheumatically hands all knobby at the joints; the woman returning books for a neighbor who's gone to hospital; the little girl who was worried because she didn't have a card and thought she should have; and Miss Payne explaining very simply that, since she was a brand new borrower, she was going to have a yellow card all her own, and it would be ready for her the very next time the Bookmobile was out.

Educationally, I picked up several facts—that Brentwood people take more non-fiction than other groups; that Royal Oak borrowers read current affairs, especially economics; that borrowers were mostly old or young because, of the 20-40 age group, the men were working, and the women often had small babies and couldn't get out on a wet day.

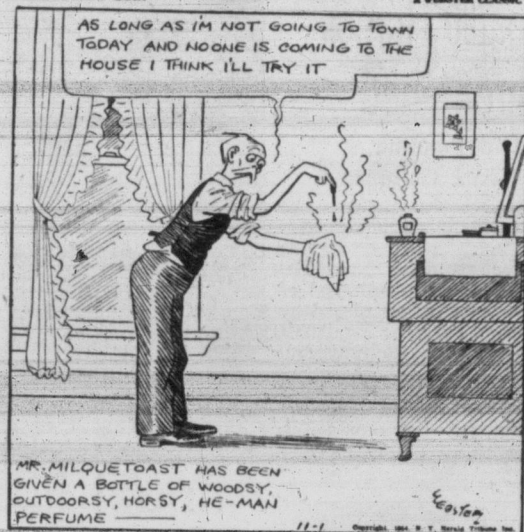

But, for me, the whole day was summed up by a ten-year-old I saw at the last stop. He was on a bike, pedalling furiously. Suddenly, he slammed on the brakes with a terrific screech.

"Oh, Boy!" he shouted in glad surprise. "It's the Bookmobile!"

And that was it. Not a cat and dried public service. Not just taxpayers getting something for their money. But a friendly, welcome, personal happening.

On all those faces, young and old, was written: "Oh, Boy! The Bookmobile!"

ARCHBISHOP TO RENT SUITES IN LAMBETH

LONDON (Reuters)—The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, is turning part of his centuries-old Lambeth palace residence into rented apartments to swell Church of England finances.

A spokesman for the archbishop, head of the Anglican Church, said Sunday that four apartments are being set up inside the palace, where the divorce of Henry VIII from Anne Boleyn was pronounced more than 400 years ago.

The apartments will probably be ready for their new tenants by December. Rents will range from £321 to £471 a year and will go to the church commissioners, who control Church of England property.

The archbishop will personally approve his tenants, who will probably be from the higher service bracket or members of Parliament.

Bennett on Defensive Says Liberal Leader

Laing Wants Monthly Statements on B.C.'s Receipts, Disbursement as Promised

VANCOUVER (CP)—Liberal Leader Arthur Laing said Saturday Premier Bennett appeared to be "on the defensive" in remarks made by the premier at his Kelowna home.

In an interview Mr. Bennett accused the Liberal leader of making a number of "misstatements."

Mr. Laing replied: "He knows his revenues are slipping. Why doesn't he make monthly statements of his government's receipts and disbursements, as he promised last year?"

To Mr. Bennett's statement that he was not on the convention platform at the time the Social Credit League discussed a controversial civil service resolution, Mr. Laing said:

"I don't care whether he was at the meeting or not. If he wasn't why hasn't he repudiated the motion since?"

The Liberal leader said there was never any suggestion in his speeches that the B.C. government was entering into arrangements to pipe Peace River natural gas through Alberta, missing central B.C.

"All I said is that the premier is a sand-lot boy suddenly put into a league so big that if he did not watch out Alberta would get the gas line before he knew what was happening."

Regarding the Frohisher deal, Mr. Laing said:

Full-Scale 40-Hour Week Foreseen for Federal Staffs

J. E. Carey and James Bryant, Victoria, officials of the National Defense Employees' Association, have returned from Ottawa optimistic that the 40-hour week will be put into effect for all defense employees in Canada next year.

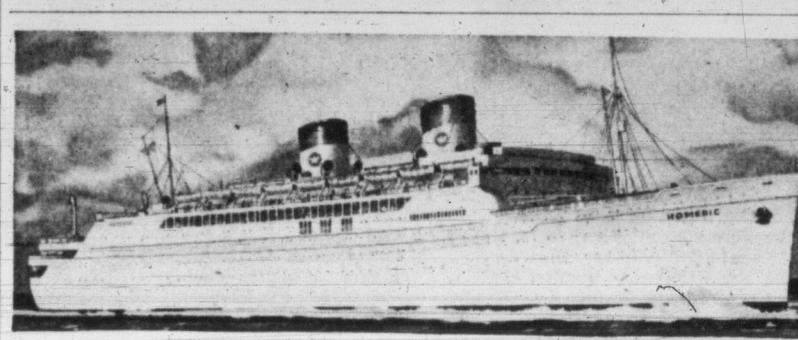

Mr. Carey is B.C. vice-president of the association and Mr. Bryant is NDEA executive vice-president. During their stay in the national capital last week they attended many private interviews as well as national executive sessions. HMC Dockyard personnel here are on a 40-hour week now, but as the civil servants' week is 44 hours, overtime is not paid locally until after 44 hours have been worked. The overtime question is one that involves the work with them.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Psychiatrists Can Err

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

I was pleased recently to find a report of a mental health congress in which several psychiatrists expressed doubt as to their ability to say, off-hand, what should be the relationships between certain parents and their children. One of the worst features of modern psychiatry is that much of what is preached can never be backed up by proof. It is pure theory, and much of it is not accepted by the old-time type of psychiatrist and most non-psychiatric physicians.

Alvarez

What has long bothered my old-fashioned psychiatric friends is that often the unprovable statement of some analyst almost breaks the heart of the mother of a psychotic child.

Instead of accepting the probability that the child just inherited a bit of Uncle Bill's and Aunt Lucy's insanity, the analyst insists that the whole trouble is due to the fact that the mother showed too much love for the child.

Or, as a mother of a 15-year-old mentally disturbed boy said to me, the other day, "When I took him to a psychiatrist, the first thing the doctor said to him was, 'The trouble with you is that you are in love with your mother, so you hate your father.'"

Actually, the boy's main concern at the time was that he was horrified, as are so many others who are nervously upset at puberty over the whole idea of sex, and could not face it.

HEARTS BROKEN Some parents have told me that when accused of having loved their children too much they have become not only broken-hearted but so ashamed that they could not face their friends, and would no longer go out into society. As these people said, they had lavished love on their children because it was in their heart to give it. Some had read books on child psychology and had done everything they could to bring the child up sensibly and with kindness. They could not see wherein they had erred and failed, and yet here they were having hurled at them the whole blame for the child's psychosis or criminality or delinquency.

As one of my elderly psychiatric friends says, he would like to have seen what a young Freudian would have done if he had had to bring up in his own home the difficult, unco-operative, perhaps sullen, cruel, destructive, insolent, and mildly psychotic child of the parents whom he is condemning. Perhaps, at times, he would have lost his temper and thrashed the child!

UNVERIFIED PREDICTIONS I was pleased to read in Time that Dr. Hilde Bruch said, at the recent meeting, "It seems to me the time has come to leave mother and child alone. . . . Parents are the persons they are, and they cannot be dealt with in an abstract or dictatorial way, like puppets. . . . She went on to say that many of the pronouncements about a child are made "Without an effort having been made to verify these predictions." (Hear! Hear!)

Yet they are presented to parents as scientific facts, often with the implied or open threat that any neglect of theory might injure the child, "and result in neurosis in the dim and distant future." As Dr. Bruch went on to say so wisely, not all children are the same, and one cannot lay down laws which are applicable to all! What mother of four children has not marvelled at the great differences in the temperaments and characters and interests and likes of her offspring?

My good and kind friend, Dr. Benjamin Spock, whose feet are always on the ground and who is full of good sense and wisdom, said: "The job of rearing children has been made more difficult, especially for less secure parents." Dr. Kenneth E. Priestly said, "Parents might be better employed playing with their children in the backyard than attending lectures by a psychiatrist." I am sure that most wise old doctors would cheer lustily over that statement.

ILL-ADJUSTED PARENTS There is no question that many children have a hard time of it with parents who are not well adjusted, whose tempers are short, who have no patience, who haven't enough love, who are too reserved to show what love they have, who are too ready to fuss at the child and order him about, or who are too ready to punish severely. Hard-on children are those parents whose behavior is not consistent; who punish one minute and are foolishly indulgent the next. Trying on children's nerves are those many parents who often become so angry as to be unreasonable and violent.

What has long distressed me is that a "difficult" child who will always be hard to bring up and to discipline, commonly has to be brought up by the poorly adjusted and irritable parent from whom he inherited his mental quirks. It would be hard enough for him to grow into a fine man if he were to be brought up by foster parents who had rare good sense, good knowledge, much kindness, and always a steady, sensible, and firm discipline.

Ladysmith City Council Accepts Kinsmen Offer of New Ambulance

LADYSMITH — A delegation from the Ladysmith Kinsmen Club, appearing before the city council here, offered the city a new ambulance to replace the present vehicle, a 12-year-old air force surplus model.

The Kinsmen Club proposes to provide the ambulance and also to operate it on a voluntary basis so that all revenues can go toward the maintenance of the vehicle.

The offer was accepted by the council and Mayor Len Ryan commended the club for its public spirited attitude.

"I think it is a generous offer and I think you gentlemen are to be commended. I feel sure that all the citizens of Ladysmith will feel the same," he said.

Keith Stevens and Fred Pierce presented the proposal on behalf of the Kinsmen Club. Mr. Stevens told the council that the club was prepared to

Campbell River Ratepayers Advance Hospital Scheme

CAMPBELL RIVER — Establishment of a new, 60-bed hospital here came a step closer Friday night when property owners elected five trustees for the newly formed Campbell River and District Improvement Society.

The trustees have authority to borrow $349,000, which is to be the district's share of the $918,000 project. The provincial government will put up half of the required sum and the federal government will contribute $60,000—$1,000 for each bed.

J. W. Baikie, chairman of Village Commissioners and partner in Baikie Bros. Logging Company, was elected as a trustee for three years. Jack Torrance, of Elk Falls Paper Company who served on the hospital board at Ocean Falls, and John Summers, of Mansons Landing, were elected for two-year terms.

Clay Anderson, of Kelsey Bay, and Alex Linton, Campbell River, were picked to serve one-year terms.

Council Promotes Road Boss to Permanent Post

CHEMUNUS — Perry Ross has been elevated from the position of municipal public works and road superintendent to the permanent position of municipal public works supervisor.

Discussing the move, Reeve C. A. P. Morrison said that with all the new work facing the municipality, including the various new water systems, it was necessary to have increased supervision. He added that appointment of Mr. Ross would, in the long run, prove to be an economy move, as he would be in a position to supervise the various contractors, rather than have them bring in individual personnel.

Mr. Ross' new salary will be shared by the municipality and the various local improvements.

High Quality Ore Produced At Lake Mine

DUNCAN — Returns from the Tacoma smelter, on the latest ore shipment from the Cowichan Copper Company's Blue Grouse Mine at Honeycomb Bay, Cowichan Lake, showed 904 tons averaged 8.94 per cent copper.

In announcing the unusually high grade of ore, O. G. MacDonald, mine president, said the shipment had a gross smelter return of $49,000 and a smelter net of $30,000.

The company hopes to ship twice monthly in future. All ore is hauled by truck from the mine to Crofton, a distance of about 30 miles, then stockpiled at the government and loaded onto a barge when a capacity load has accumulated.

Anxious to Buy Cowichan Land

CHEMUNUS — The B.C. Forest Service is seeking to purchase 10 acres of North Cowichan municipal land in the Somenos district.

The area in question is the northeast section of section 11, range 1, and is presently being leased by the municipality to the Forest Service.

The service wishes to set up a forest protection system on the land and raise communication poles and lines.

Reeve Morrison said he was not in favor of selling off small pieces of municipal land. Councillor George Whitaker reported that the area contained approximately 500,000 feet of high grade timber. He suggested the municipality first find out what the Forest Service was prepared to offer for the land.

Water Service To 200 Homes Threatened

Old Pipeline Nears Collapse

NANAIMO — Fears for the collapse of the Canadian Collieries pipeline serving water to more than 200 homes in the south end of this district were roused by a break near the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway embankment.

"Repairs are out of the question," said Rod Glenn, secretary of Harewood Improvement District.

A small number of homes on View and Robins Streets are without water now, and service will not be restored within any fixed period.

"We have no option but to plug the pipe at the spot where the break occurred," Mr. Glenn said.

COST PROHIBITIVE

He said the whole of the line, taken over by the improvement district from the colliery company, will have to be abandoned in a few months.

"The cost of maintaining this service is fast becoming prohibitive," he said. "Not a day passes without new leaks, and we cannot stand the financial drain much longer."

He said the district will have to begin construction of its own line 18 months ahead of its original schedule.

The present pipeline draws water from two reservoirs near the old army camp. Permission to lay pipe to connect with city reservoirs is being sought from Greater Nanaimo Water Board.

CCF Leader Predicts Annual Fixed Wages

Arnold Webster Deplores U.S. Lobbyists; 'On Government Doorstep,' Meeting Told

NANAIMO (CP)—CCF Provincial Leader Arnold Webster Sunday told 300 party members attending the CCF island zone conference here that he believed it would not be many years until industry granted workers an annual wage.

"This is not CCF policy," he said. "I am just dreaming."

He said he was worried by the rapid increase of U.S. investment capital flooding into Canada to develop our natural resources because of the growing pressure of lobbyists who "camp on the government's doorstep at Victoria, Edmonton and Ottawa."

"Influence of pressure groups representing U.S. investors can be a danger to our Canadian democracy," he said.

"It used to be that the soldier followed the trader, now it is the lobbyist who follows the investor."

He also said small investors in the B.C. fishing industry were getting worried by the growing dominance of B.C. Packers.

He called on the government to assume responsibility for an orderly development of the province's natural resources.

"Government policy must provide for control of planning and marketing."

POWER PLANT NEGOTIATIONS CALLED UNDIGNIFIED BOUT

NANAIMO — Negotiations on Columbia River power development were described here Sunday by Arnold Webster, CCF provincial party leader, as an "undignified bout between R. E. Sommers (B.C. lands minister) and C. D. Howe."

He questioned the necessity of "such lavishness in granting rights to build dams in the upper Columbia River."

"All B.C. gets out of it is something less than $1,000,000 annually and 48,000,000 kw. in power," he said.

Cowichan Council Seeking Advice on Harbor Dispute

CHEMUNUS — The matter of particular parties were pressing foreshore in Chemunus harbor, strongly for action in respect to which has been the cause of a long-standing dispute between Chemunus Towing Co. and the Chang brothers, was brought up again at North Cowichan council meeting this week, but is no nearer solution.

A communication from R. E. Burns, superintendent of lands, advised council that the government was not interested in obtaining the foreshore in question, as an extension of the present wharf site. He added that

The property has been held in reserve for the past three years at the request of the Chemunus Chamber of Commerce, in hopes that an extension would be made to the government wharf. Chemunus Towing Co. formerly held a lease on foreshore, and is using it at present in company with owners of small boats.

Council, before replying to the letter, will seek the opinion of the Chemunus Chamber of Commerce in the matter.

The Crofton Ratepayers' Association has requested council for assistance in its efforts to obtain additional wharf space for small boats. The group is seeking a 40-foot extension to the present wharf and the construction of a U-shaped enclosure to protect the craft further.

Council was asked to contact the district engineer in the matter, in an effort to have the work done at the same time construction is being carried out on the ferry slip.

AT ALL DRUG STORES

SAIGON, Indo-China (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru of India, returning from a 10-day visit to Red China, said Sunday the Peiping regime will have its hands full for 15 or 20 years with economic development and wants peace.

Nehru summed up his impressions on China for newspaper men just before flying to the little kingdom of Cambodia on his way home. He reached Saigon Saturday.

"My visit to China has led me to believe the people of China are anxious to have peace and avoid war," Nehru said, adding that he was impressed with the hopes for peace expressed by Red China's boss, Mao Tse-tung and Premier Chou En-lai. He said he had the impression that China does not wish to interfere in the internal affairs of other countries.

ELGIN NEISH

Union Head 3rd Entry in Council Race

Elgin Neish, president of the Victoria local of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union, has entered his name in the aldermanic contest to be decided in December.

Mr. Neish, who lives at 2409 Currie Road, was an unsuccessful candidate last year.

He is the third to enter this year's council race. Other definite starters are Miss Jane Hall and Austin Curtis.

Others expected in the line-up before nominations close are Ald. Robert Macmillan, Ald. Arthur Dowell, Charles Hunt and Mrs. Lily Wilson.

There are four vacancies to be filled.

CNR Meal Prices To Come Under $1

MONTREAL (BUP)—Canadian National Railways announced today that a dinette car and coffee shop service would be added this month to some trains to provide meals for less than $1.

Among the trains favored by the move are the Continental Limited, Trains 1 and 2 between Montreal and Vancouver, Trains 3 and 4 between Toronto and Vancouver, the International Limited from Toronto to Montreal, and the LaSalle from Montreal to Toronto.

Four new dinette cars will be assigned to Trains 1 and 2 on the Montreal-Winnipeg route in place of the customary dining cars in present use. Both dining car and dinette will service trains completing the second leg of the journey from Winnipeg to Vancouver.

The dinette units will be operated throughout the day and evening.

Regular dining cars will remain on Trains 3 and 4 on that line but these will be supplemented by new sleeper-grill cars for tourist class service.

Two dinette cars will also be operated in pool service between Montreal and Toronto, attached to the morning trains leaving from each city.

Plante Leads Goalies; Chihawks Tie Rangers

Sunday
Chicago 1, New York 1
Saturday
Toronto 3, New York 1
Montreal 5, Chicago 1
Detroit 4, Boston 0

By The Canadian Press
Montreal Canadiens, besides winning games, are giving goaltender Jacques Plante some of the best protection in the National Hockey League.

The Montrealers are in front in the six-team league race today and Plante is high up in the individual netminding competition.

The 25-year-old successor to Gerry McNeil has allowed only 19 goals in 11 games so far in the 1954-55 campaign. That's a sign of Plante's talent and the protection given by the Montreal defense corps. The Montreal snipers, on the other hand, have scored 36 on the opposition.

Plante turned in another creditable performance Saturday night as the Canadiens defeated Chicago Black Hawks 5-1 before a crowd of 14,346 Montreal fans. He handled 22 shots.

In the two other games, so-so Maple Leafs scored two third-period goals to defeat New York Rangers 3-1 at Toronto, and Detroit Red Wings blanked Boston Bruins 4-0 to give netminder Terry Sawchuk his second shutout of the season.

Sawchuk has allowed only 18 goals but he has played two fewer games than Plante. In the only Sunday game, the Black Hawks scored in the third period to tie the Rangers 1-1 at Chicago.

At Montreal, the Canadiens spotted the Hawks a goal early in the first period and then cut them down.

GEORFRIER GETS TWO
Bernie Geoffrier, currently the leading goal scorer counted two to run his count to nine. Ken Modell tallied another pair for a season total of seven. Rookie Eddie Litzenberger scored the other for Montreal. Larry Wilson accounted for the Chicago marker.

Utility centre Rudy Migay and rightwinger Ron Stewart gave the Leafs victory. Leftwinger Sid Smith scored the other in the second period to tie the game 1-1. Rightwinger Camille Henry beat goaltender Harry Lumley at 11:04 of the second to send Rangers into a brief lead.

New York netminder Lorne Worsley was sensational. He made seemingly impossible saves and kept Rangers in the game with his spectacular stops. All told, he handled 35 shots, as compared to 23 for Lumley.

Veteran Bill Mosienko scored on a 30-foot shot midway through the last period to salvage the tie for Chicago. Larry Popen, up from Vancouver Canucks of the Western Hockey League, tallied at 1:44 on a play with Andy Bathgate.

CORNWALL, Ont. (CP)—Fergus Thistles Sunday captured the Eastern Canada Senior B lacrosse championship by downing St. Regis Indians, 14-9, in the final of a best-of-three series.

Pro Grid Race Tight; Bears Trip '49ers

NEW YORK (AP)—It's not George Blanda's fault that the Chicago Bears aren't leading the National Football League's western division today.

The Bears, one-time NFL rulers, are in third place by a mediocre 3-3 record, but it would have been a lot worse without Blanda.

The rugged 197-pound pass and kick expert from Kentucky University, enjoying his greatest of six seasons with the Bears, appears on his way to win the league's all-star quarterback berth.

It was Blanda pitching and Harlon Hill catching Sunday as the Bears defeated the previously unbeaten San Francisco 49ers, 31-27, in one of the season's biggest upsets.

Hill, a rookie end from Alabama State Teachers College, caught four touchdown passes, the last one with only 33 seconds remaining.

Detroit also had to come from behind, scoring a touchdown in the last quarter to overcome a 24-0 deficit and nip the Los Angeles Rams, 27-24.

The eastern division is even more knotted with three teams—Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and New York—possessing 4-2 records. Cleveland is a half step behind with 3-2.

All three leaders bowed over the week-end as Cleveland walked the Giants, 24-14; the Chicago Cardinals surprised the Steelers, 37-14; and Green Bay routed the Eagles, 37-14, Saturday night.

Washington joined the Cardinals in winning its first game of the season, shading Baltimore's Colts, 24-21.

U.S., BRAZIL LEAD WORLD TOURNEY
Canada's Cagers Lose Again

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Canada's hopes of finishing any better than third in the world basketball tournament faded Saturday as Winnipeg Canadians dropped an 84-50 verdict to Peoria Caterpillars.

The loss left the Canadians with a record of two wins and two losses in the round-robin tournament involving eight teams. Canada's two defeats have been by Brazil and the U.S., both still undefeated and likely to finish in the first two spots.

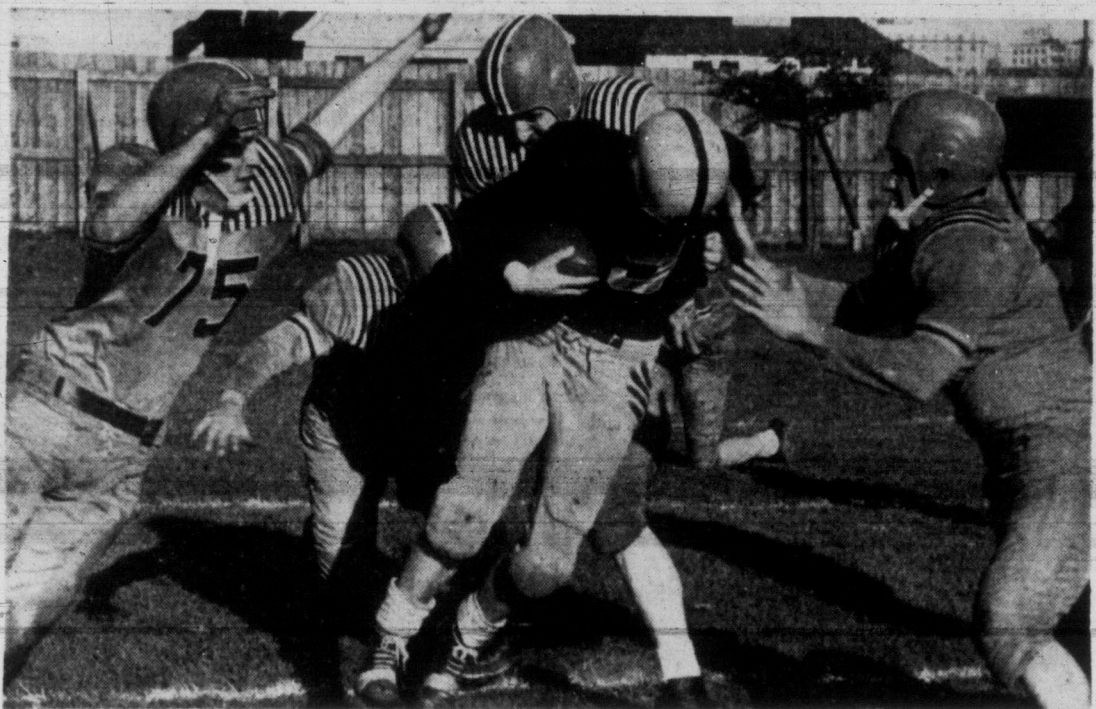

George Oelkers, high-scoring Winnipeg forward, led the Canadian attack with 16 points, while Wally Parobeck tallied 14, including eight foul shots.

In other championship round games, Saturday, the Philippines defeated Israel, 90-56, and France beat China, 58-48. The Philippines and France now have 21 records while China and Israel are winless in three starts.

In games Sunday, unbeaten Brazil moved into a tie with the United States for first place, defeating the Philippines, 57-41.

The victory was Brazil's fourth in the final round. No game was scheduled for the United States.

In other championship games, Israel won its first game of the final round, edging France, 48-45, in overtime. Uruguay also won its first game in the round by coming from behind in the second half for a 67-62 victory over Nationalist China, still winless.

A Drake Going Nowhere Fast

A hard-running ground attack and strong pass defense was the big factor Saturday at Macdonald Park as Oak Bay Drakes captured the city and British Columbia intermediate Canadian football championship by whipping Mayo Vampires, 20-5, in the second game of a two-game total-point series.

TAKE SECOND PLACE

Dockers Win On Alec's Goal

Esquimalt moved into sole possession of second place in the first division and Tillamuc suffered their initial second division defeat this season in Victoria and District Football League action Sunday.

Pro Grid Race Tight; Bears Trip '49ers

NEW YORK (AP)—It's not George Blanda's fault that the Chicago Bears aren't leading the National Football League's western division today.

The Bears, one-time NFL rulers, are in third place by a mediocre 3-3 record, but it would have been a lot worse without Blanda.

The rugged 197-pound pass and kick expert from Kentucky University, enjoying his greatest of six seasons with the Bears, appears on his way to win the league's all-star quarterback berth.

It was Blanda pitching and Harlon Hill catching Sunday as the Bears defeated the previously unbeaten San Francisco 49ers, 31-27, in one of the season's biggest upsets.

Hill, a rookie end from Alabama State Teachers College, caught four touchdown passes, the last one with only 33 seconds remaining.

Detroit also had to come from behind, scoring a touchdown in the last quarter to overcome a 24-0 deficit and nip the Los Angeles Rams, 27-24.

The eastern division is even more knotted with three teams—Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and New York—possessing 4-2 records. Cleveland is a half step behind with 3-2.

All three leaders bowed over the week-end as Cleveland walked the Giants, 24-14; the Chicago Cardinals surprised the Steelers, 37-14; and Green Bay routed the Eagles, 37-14, Saturday night.

Washington joined the Cardinals in winning its first game of the season, shading Baltimore's Colts, 24-21.

U.S., BRAZIL LEAD WORLD TOURNEY
Canada's Cagers Lose Again

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Canada's hopes of finishing any better than third in the world basketball tournament faded Saturday as Winnipeg Canadians dropped an 84-50 verdict to Peoria Caterpillars.

The loss left the Canadians with a record of two wins and two losses in the round-robin tournament involving eight teams. Canada's two defeats have been by Brazil and the U.S., both still undefeated and likely to finish in the first two spots.

George Oelkers, high-scoring Winnipeg forward, led the Canadian attack with 16 points, while Wally Parobeck tallied 14, including eight foul shots.

In other championship round games, Saturday, the Philippines defeated Israel, 90-56, and France beat China, 58-48. The Philippines and France now have 21 records while China and Israel are winless in three starts.

In games Sunday, unbeaten Brazil moved into a tie with the United States for first place, defeating the Philippines, 57-41.

The victory was Brazil's fourth in the final round. No game was scheduled for the United States.

In other championship games, Israel won its first game of the final round, edging France, 48-45, in overtime. Uruguay also won its first game in the round by coming from behind in the second half for a 67-62 victory over Nationalist China, still winless.

JOHNSON OPTIMISTIC KANSAS CITY TO GET A's

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Arnold Johnson wants to confer again with his attorneys but he's "still optimistic" that he'll be able to buy the Philadelphia Athletics and move them to Kansas City.

Johnson, Chicago realtor who heads a Kansas City group, made that observation Sunday before leaving here for Chicago.

Johnson said he would discuss the admittedly "confused" situation with his attorney in Chicago "to look over the situation and make a final decision," but he refused to outline what decision he was considering. There were reports he is considering revising his $3,375,000 offer for the franchise.

Morrison, Scroggs Retain Golf Buttons

Bob Morrison and Frank Scroggs of Uplands Golf Club made their first defense of the city men's golf buttons a successful one Sunday as they defeated Hugh Morrison and Dr. George Bigelow of Victoria Golf Club, 1 up, at Uplands.

The match was close throughout. Hugh Morrison and Bigelow taking a two-up edge after getting birdies on the second and fourth holes. Bob Morrison and Scroggs evened the match with birdies on the seventh and eighth and then battled to the 18th before taking the victory.

Best-ball for the winners was 65, against 66 for the losers. Bob Morrison toured the par 70 course in two-under-par 68 and Hugh Morrison shot a one-under-par 69. Scroggs and Bigelow each fired 71s.

SHORES TRIUMPH
City Protests
Non-Appearance
Of St. Andrews's

Victoria City of the Coast Soccer League will file an official protest with league officials in Vancouver regarding the scheduled game Saturday at Royal Athletic Park which was cancelled when St. Andrews failed to appear.

Team officials said today that they will forward the protest Tuesday to league president George Lunn in Vancouver. Local officials and fans were equally angered when it was learned that after four days of fog in Vancouver the St. Andrews team had booked passage by plane and had made no provision for boat travel.

St. Andrews were unable to leave Vancouver as planes were grounded due to fog and the game here was cancelled, although Victoria had excellent weather.

In the only game played Saturday, North Shore moved within one point of league-leading Firefighters with a 2-1 victory.

Bob Bruce and Tommy Cooper scored for North Shore. At Hughes' countering for Firefighters.

Clippers Take Lead; Meet Sailors Tonight
High-flying Nanaimo Clippers, leading the Vancouver Island Amateur Hockey League following their 9-5 victory Saturday night at Nanaimo over Drake Hotel, are scheduled to clash here tonight with a bolstered Navy team.

Clippers meet Navy in the second game of a two-game card at Memorial Arena at 9. Home and C & C Taxi, tied for second, clash at 7:30.

Navy, which had several new players in strip last week, will be further strengthened with the addition of newcomer Bruce Cook and Roy Derry, who played for the team two seasons ago.

Saturday night, Clippers scored four third-period goals to break a 5-5 deadlock and take the victory. The teams were deadlocked 3-3 entering the first period and 5-5 entering the third canto.

Famed Clown Grock Puts Fiddle Away

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—Dr. Adrian Wettach has retired from public life. Dr. Wettach has another name, known and loved by Europeans for half a century. He is the great clown Grock. Grock thinks it's time to hang up his baggy trousers, put away his tiny fiddle and let somebody else make the world laugh. It isn't that he has run out of merriment or become soured on the world. Grock's just a little tired. The muscles and sinews of 74 aren't those of 25. Laughter has paid Grock well. He has a big home on the French Riviera, owns a factory which makes magnetophones, has three cars. Grock was born in a village near Bern. The family emigrated to Hungary once, and then returned. In the lean days, Grock often played in open market places, clowning and then passed the hat. How did he become a "doctor"? Well, a long time ago in Hungary, he was tutor to the children of Count Istvan Bethlen. Much later, when Bethlen became minister president, he made Grock an honorary doctor of philosophy.

CHIANG 68 SUNDAY

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—President Kai-shek Sunday spent his 68th birthday in seclusion while his air force boasted it would be ready to return to the Chinese mainland before his next birthday. The boast was made by Gen. Wang Shu-ming, air force commander, in a birthday radio speech. It's a nice degree and fitting for Grock. His philosophy is laughter.

Irish Talker Reaches His 127-Hour Goal

OLDHAM, Eng. (Reuters)—Kevin Sheehan, 25-year-old Irishman from Limerick, completed his 127-hour talking marathon here Saturday night and then fainted. Promptly at the 6 p.m. deadline he collapsed in the middle of a speech of thanks to the 450 people who crowded into a ballroom here to watch him. A few minutes later, after being attended by a doctor, he recovered consciousness and began to weep. Speaking huskily, he told a reporter: "Physically I feel quite fit but I'm exhausted mentally. What I need now is relaxation. I made this attempt because I'm a squre peg in a round hole. I have never been able to find a job to suit my talents. I hope somebody will employ my oratorical powers as a result of my Success here." During the marathon he lost 28 pounds. He had only liquid food and 120 cigarettes a day to steady his nerves. About 1,000 people paid one shilling each to see him during the week.

New York Newspapers Avert Strike Threat

NEW YORK (AP)—A tentative agreement has lifted the threat of a strike by 4,300 bulk newspaper deliverers employed by eight New York City newspapers. Members of the Newspaper and Mail Deliveries Union (Ind.) voted tentative acceptance Sunday of a two-year contract "package" providing wage, welfare, pension and holiday improvements totalling $5.80 a week. Wages under the old agreement were $2.82 for day drivers and $3.02 for night drivers. The union had sought a $20 weekly increase.

U.S. Shuts Off Korea Gas In Squabble Over Currency

SEOUL (AP)—The United States refused again today to supply petroleum products to gasoline-short South Korea. The Korean government, in turn, cracked down on Korean employees of the U.S. Army who accept United States dollars as wages. Both issues are a result of the dispute between the two countries over the exchange rate of the Korean hwan. A statement by Gen. John E. Hull, UN Far East commander, reiterated that South Korea can obtain petroleum products only by paying for them in hwan. He said Prime Minister Pyn Yung Tal had asked the United States to lend South Korea petroleum supplies. South Korea cut off hwan advances a month ago as a result of the exchange rate dispute. Hull cut off petroleum supplies in retaliation. South Korea wants to maintain a rate of 180 hwan to $1. The United States insists on "raising it realistically," quoting figures ranging from 254-to-1 to 500-to-1. The South Korean government, trying to discourage about 100,000 Korean employees of U.S. military forces from accepting their pay in dollars instead of hwan, said the Bank of Korea will refuse to exchange or accept the dollars. The bank is the only legal outlet for the dollars which the U.S. Army began paying Korean workers Friday because it said it does not have enough hwan on hand. National police also cracked down on dollar black marketers. They arrested 65 money-changers and five Korean employees of the U.S. Army in Pusan Friday as violators of foreign-exchange laws.

DOCTOR 'ADULTERER' IN TEST TUBE CASE?

CHICAGO (AP)—A lawyer contends that a doctor said to have helped a woman have a test-tube baby is, along with the woman, "guilty of adultery."

Counsel for George Doornbos, 46, told Supreme Court Friday that artificial insemination is contrary to natural and divine law and constitutes adultery.

Doornbos is involved in a divorce action with his estranged wife, Mary, 36. Mrs. Doornbos alleged in her complaint that her five-year-old son was conceived by artificial insemination. She asked that Doornbos be denied all rights to the child.

Studio Hopes to Build Eddie Into Another Bing Crosby

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Eddie Fisher's big dream, his friends say, is to become another Bing Crosby, a star in the movies as well as radio, TV and recordings.

Last week-end, Don Hartman, production chief at Paramount, was huddling with Fisher and his advisers. The studio—where Crosby works—hopes to make Eddie a movie hero as soon as a top script can be found for him.

It is a dream Eddie has cherished since he nawked vegetables on the back alleys of South Philadelphia for his father, then a sidewalk peddler.

"For a while we were on relief," he says. "I'd go down to the railway station where they handed out flour and vegetables. I'd hide the food under my coat so nobody would see it."

The Golden Plover is one of the most outstanding of all migrating birds. It nests on the Alaska tundra in summertime, and with the approach of cold weather, makes a nonstop flight of 2,400 miles to Hawaii. In late spring it returns to Alaska.

LONDON (UP)—Two mothers, each nursing and claiming the other's baby as the result of a hospital mistake, today called off scheduled christening ceremonies.

Mrs. Sheila Read, 24, and Mrs. Vera Bowers, 22, formally put off the naming of the five-week-old boys until another attempt is made to decide the future of the babies.

Forest Gate Hospital authorities, in suburban West Ham, admitted Friday that the two babies "unfortunately" had been given to the wrong mothers through a mix-up in wrist and crib tags.

But Mrs. Read and Mrs. Bowers refused to accept the government-operated hospital's explanation and said they would not give up the babies.

"It's no good, Alf," Mrs. Read told her husband, a garage mechanic. "I don't care what anybody says, I feel that this little one here is mine."

"I feel just like Sheila," Mrs. Bowers, wife of a bank messenger, said.

Gosley Potpourri Scores 2-Way Hit

Fast-Paced Show Delights Fox Audience, Boosts St. Joseph Villa TV Fund to $1,066

By DAN CHRISTIAN

The Jerry Gosley troupe . . . the Smile Show that toured Korea . . . scored twin successes at Fox Theatre Sunday night. The gang's laugh-packed variety program delighted an appreciative audience of 325, and the objective of $1,000 for St. Joseph's Villa TV and Recreation Fund was exceeded by $66.

One of the funniest skits was Jerry Gosley's interpretation of a 1918 "bathing beauty" who was "Goin' to Swim the Straits."

Irene Henderson, one of the permanent members of the group, sang current favorites and teamed up with Jerry in "Look What Liberace Done to Me," "Western Time" and "Man and Woman," three energetic acts that occasionally caught the two performers short of breath. She also did Grace Field impersonations.

Background music was by Al Denoni and his accordion. He also offered solo numbers.

South American and tap dancing by Brenda Myren scored a hit. The troupe's newest member, Mimi Bavin, sang "Si Bon, Eh" and "Summertime."

Something not expected but certainly appreciated was a 15-minute dnmescopie movie, "Haydn's Farewell Symphony." Incidental organ music was by Bernie Ryall at the console.

The show ended with each performer describing, with song and pantomime, the outcome . . . "If I lose my job."

Mrs. Laura Chaplin, head nurse at the Villa, and Dr. R. M. Lane, medical director for Vancouver Island, expressed thanks for "the help given us in making the TV and recreation fund a success."

AUDREY HEPBURN ON CHARITY TOUR
AMSTERDAM (AP)—Dutch-born movie actress Audrey Hepburn arrived here today from Italy for a five-day fund-raising tour for Dutch war veterans.

Miss Hepburn, accompanied by her husband, actor Mel Ferrer, received an enthusiastic welcome as she landed at Schiphol airport.

Hundreds of bobby soxers gathered outside were held back by police as Miss Hepburn ran to her car.

Josiane's Nude Posing Doesn't Bother Marlon

ROME (UP)—Marlon Brando, the cultured roughneck of stage and screen, vowed today his romance with the daughter of a humble French fisherman was "no one-night stand."

Brando left his love-sick fiancée in Paris and reached Rome today proclaiming his eternal love for the fisherman's daughter, Josiane Vmariari-Besenger.

Brando, his hair combed like Napoleon's, said the fact his fiancée has posed in the nude for Polish-born painter Moise Kissing didn't bother him—that he admired the pictures greatly.

"It's art," he said. "Why should I be upset?"

Madcap Goblins of All Ages Turn Halloween Into Year's Liveliest Saturday Night

By BILL PARKER

Victorians from four to 40 went celebrating Saturday night.

Downtown Victoria became a Halloween battle scene as several thousand young people, teen-agers, soldiers and sailors congregated in the Yates-Douglas area and literally went wild.

Although little actual damage was done, the scene at about 8 o'clock looked like monstrous mayhem.

Firecrackers, bombs and flares created a pseudo-battle-field as groups teamed up playfully to attack each other. A favorite trick appeared to be holding Roman candles and aiming them at groups across the street.

The girls suffered no little amount of discomfort as firecrackers burned holes in nylon hose.

Police assisted by Legion of Frontiersmen, were greatly outnumbered and appeared content just to see that no one got hurt.

With all the explosives being used, several thousand dollars worth at least, damage in the business section was light. Main targets for celebrants were street waste baskets, contents of which were burned.

Many policemen on duty expressed amazement that people weren't getting hurt. Commented one:

"There's so many people, and so many fireworks, that somebody's bound to get it."

Throughout all the excitement, there was also a lot of humor.

There was the pair of celebrants, dressed as hoboes, who carried a plank between them. Atop the plank, blinking and flickering, were a pair of lighted candles.

Another "wag" was observed wandering up and down Yates in bedroom slippers, a knee-length nightshirt, and an ancient bedcap, also carrying a candle.

Further out of town, too, Halloween humor caused many a laugh.

In one home, with a group quietly celebrating the occasion, a knock came to the door.

The woman of the house went to see who it was.

People were startled to hear a wailing voice: "Aims for the love of Allah."

At the door was an adult, dressed as an Arab, with flute in hand, kneeling on the doormat.

"Give me sweet-meats and I'll play you a tune," he said.

The candles were given and the caller, who refused to identify himself, tooted his flute to everyone's satisfaction.

Then, without a word, he rose, walked down the path, climbed into a long, low car and drove off into the night.

In another part of town, Ivan Shillington, proprietor of Shillington's Grocery, 3453 Quadra, packed 100 bags of candy for expected callers. He gave them all away, and had to run to the store for an extra bag as a total of 101 youngsters pressed his doorbell.

Mr. Shillington's generosity paid off too. No one did any damage at the store and he admits he hasn't had so much fun in years.

Many organized parties kept small-fry out of harm's way. Firemen at Oak Bay Fire Hall and at the Shelbourne Street Hall of the Saanich department staged gigantic parties, complete with bonfires and fancy-dress parades.

The Bay Street playground was crowded with more than 250 youngsters. Jointly sponsored by the merchants of the Fernwood-Haultain area and the Bay Street playground committee, the party featured apples, peanuts and chocolate bars for children. A fancy-dress contest was also held with city manager Cecil Wyatt acting as judge.

Parties were held also at Langford and at Quimper Park, Cadboro Bay Road, as well as several other locations.

Victoria Daily Times

VICTORIA, B.C., MONDAY, NOVEMBER, 1, 1954 13

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Apparently nothing came of it, but two Very Young citizens of Victoria evolved an ingenious type of prank with which to celebrate Halloween.

This conversation was overheard Friday.

Young Feller No. 1: What you gonna do t'morra?

Young Feller No. 2: Dunno for sure, but I been thinkin' of cutting lead-ins.

Young Feller No. 1: What you mean. Lead-ins?

Young Feller No. 2: You know, lead-ins t' Teevee sets.

Young Feller No. 1: Gee! Wouldn't that be sumpun!

I have scanned the reports of Halloween goings-on, and find no mention of cut TV lead-ins. But, like our young friends, I think that would be "sumpun."

Much more soul-satisfying than pushing over outhouses, a pleasure which is denied to the youth of this day.

And, while on the subject of Halloween, I would like once more to repeat the Roberts theory on What is Wrong with the Younger Generation?

The theory is, nothing is wrong with the younger generation.

Despite loud outcries of horror and wild forebodings expressed in some quarters, the kids of 1954 had a little fun Saturday night, and did no demonstrable harm.

The kids of 1954 have just as much sense as the kids of 1904 or '24 or '34—maybe a little more.

They also have about as much healthy animal spirit as their predecessors in the "younger-generation" bracket—maybe a little less, because they are forever reading psychiatric reports on what is wrong with them.

If our current younger generation doesn't develop a debilitating inferiority complex, it won't be the fault of high-domed adults who view them with alarm.

Naturally, a few kids get into trouble. So do a few adults.

But I'll betcha a smaller proportion of kids get into trouble than do adults. I'll betcha a millyun bucks, I will.

Having used up my quota of editorial comment for the month, allow me to draw to your attention the latest development in television.

A radio commercial has just announced to me "Television will pay for itself in baby-sitting fees."

This must be a great boon for a young married couple, who wish to get out of the house to avoid watching television, but can't afford baby-sitting fees, due to paying for the TV set.

A machine clever enough to transmit pictures through space, right into your living room, should certainly be able to baby sit.

The only thing that bothers me is, does baby have to change the channel on TV before TV changes the diaper on baby?

Seven Hurt in Traffic

One Motorist Faces Charge

Week-end traffic sent seven people to hospital and one man to jail charged with impaired driving, Victoria district police reported today.

An accident early Sunday at Fort and Quadra claimed three victims. A car driven west on Fort Street by Joseph A. Malone, 334 Michigan, collided with a car driven by David Richard Bain, 7 Erie Street, as Malone turned south on Quadra.

Mrs. Lola Bunny Fournier, 27, 334 Michigan, was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital with a possible fractured hip. Richard Bain, 18, 7 Erie Street, suffered face abrasions. Roberta White, 164 Beechwood, was treated for knee injuries. All were passengers in the two cars.

Malone appeared in city police court today charged with impaired driving but was remanded without plea to November 8.

BROKEN LEG

Saturday night, Lawrence Teale, 11, 2201 Spring Road, was biking west on Walnut without a headlight after dark. Police said he passed a stop sign and collided with a car driven by Mrs. T. A. Petticrew, 2100 Fernwood. He was admitted to Jubilee with a broken leg.

TOTAL WRECK

A car which rolled over on the Island Highway Sunday afternoon sent two youths to Jubilee. RCMP at Shawnigan Lake said the car was a total wreck. Jack Clark, 18, Scott Apartments, was admitted with scalp lacerations. Francis Frew, 18, 502 Catharine, had head hurts and shock. A third boy was uninjured.

A motorcycle spill sent Ernie Falconer, 22, 943 Wychbury, to hospital late on Sunday. He was discharged after several abrasions were treated.

Rotary Show at Royal Brings Vaudeville Back

Vaudeville returns to Victoria's Royal Theatre tonight when Rotarians open a two-night performance of professional entertainers from all parts of the U.S.

The group was to arrive in the city this afternoon from Port Angeles, bringing with them Norma Robinson, Canadian clarinetist who has just completed a tour of night clubs in the northwest and California.

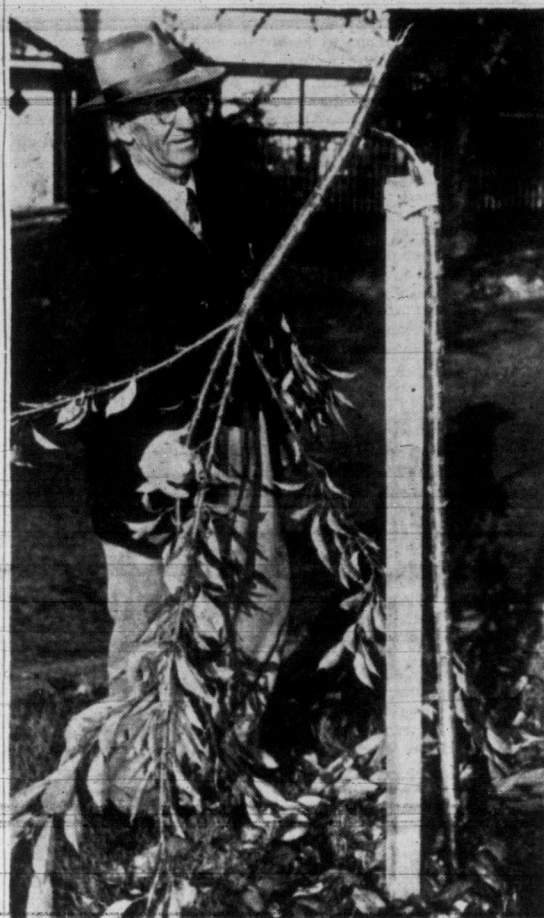

"Music and mirth in the Matson Manner" from master of ceremonies Johnny Matson will start off the show at a rapid pace, assisted by songstress Mona McCall, fresh from a European tour; Billy Woods and Maureen, piano and xylophone team; Barr and Estre, mixed comedy-dance team recognized by Variety and TV producers; Rex Storey, "world's best dressed man and worst juggler"; dog acrobatics; a family act by the Todds and Happy Tom and Jerry, fast-moving roller skating act, will round out the performance.

Managers announce that all proceeds will be used to further Rotary charity work in Victoria. Curtain time is 8.15.

19-Year-Old Thief Sentenced to Borstal

Nineteen-year-old Donald A. Geisser, 1760 Kings Road, was sentenced to six months on each of two charges of theft when he appeared before Magistrate H. C. Hall in Saanich police court today. The terms are concurrent.

The youth pleaded guilty last Tuesday to theft of jewelry and an electric razor from a Saanich home Sept. 26.

All-Canadian Policy On Hydro Requested

A policy to protect Canadian interests in regard to generation of power for United States interests was fixed in Vancouver by the B.C. Chamber of Commerce at its annual meeting last week.

NEW HIGH HIT BY TV SALES

Television sales soared to a new high in Victoria during September; 986 sets left Greater Victoria and southern Island stores.

The sales, 300 sets greater than August's total, and seven times the number sold in September, 1953, represent a value of approximately $325,000.

The chamber supported the board of directors in urging that preference should be given to a policy whereby Canadian interests would install and own dams and hydro-electric facilities in Canada.

By following such a course "the Canadian economy will be served by revenues and taxes from this perpetual source of income," the chamber stated.

POWER, NOT CASH

Further, the chamber "strongly urged" that in all cases of compensation to be paid by United States interests for power generated by B.C. waters, payment should be computed only in terms of firm power units and not in dollars.

In this way recognition will be made of the "incalculably great" value of power in the future, and the historical fact that in the long term inflationary forces tend to reduce the buying power of the dollar.

There should be the closest possible consultation and collaboration between provincial and federal authorities in this field in order that the long-term interests of both the nation and provinces will be served, the chamber said.

It also suggested that all power developments in B.C. should be planned to confer the maximum possible economic benefit on the region where the power is developed.

New Island Manager

Standard Oil Company of B.C. has appointed Donald Birnie branch manager for Vancouver Island. Heretofore he had been branch manager for the Cariboo, with headquarters at Prince George.

Mr. Birnie succeeds William French, now assistant manager of marketing (retail).

Fireworks Send Six to Hospital

JUNIOR LEARNS HOT LESSON—SOLDER FIRES CHEMICALS

Junior chemist John Reid, 15, 1530 Despard, won't try mixing hot solder with explosive chemicals again. He raced to hospital and firemen raced to his basement shop after an explosion Saturday afternoon.

John had been soldering two wires together near a bin containing a mixture of chemicals from a young scientist's set when a drop of the solder fell into the bin.

The basement fire was promptly extinguished and John's minor burns were treated at Jubilee.

Halloween Thieves Raid City Firms

Loot Includes Auto Parts Worth $500; Boys Admit Thefts From Panamanian Ship

Prowlers took advantage of Halloween-busied police and struck three times in Victoria overnight Saturday. Loot totalled $18 cash and car parts valued at over $500.

Victimized were Douglas TV at Douglas and Topaz, Sandy's Auto Wreckers, 1023 View, and Canadian Liquid Air at 1919 Douglas.

Nothing was gained at the TV shop, four rebuilt auto transmissions valued at over $500 disappeared after a rear door was smashed at the wrecking firm and $18 cash was taken when a skylight was forced in the third firm.

Meanwhile at alert watchman at Ogden Point Docks cleared up a series of thefts from a Panamanian freighter which occurred Saturday. Two 15-year-old boys were turned over to police. They admitted to taking $160 worth of pens, pencils, a flashlight and a radio from crew's quarters of Ss. Pioneer.

The goods were recovered and the boys turned over to their parents until Wednesday when they will appear in juvenile court.

A ship's officer recalled chasing the pair ashore Saturday.

11,000 SEE 'MIGHTY MAGGIE'

Blaze crewmen in HMCS Magnificent can't get over the way civilians flock aboard whenever gangways are opened to them.

Saturday, an estimated 4,000 were welcomed aboard the 18,000-ton pride of the RCN as she lay alongside in HMCS Dockyard. But a new record may have been set Sunday when crowds of sightseers were said to number close to 7,000.

"Maggie" left Esquimalt this morning for Vancouver where she will remain all week, returning here Saturday. She will be open to the public again next Sunday at HMC Dockyard jetty.

CARRIER TO VANCOUVER

'Maggie' Landings Thrill Spectators

By MONTE ROBERTS

Times Staff Reporter

ABOARD HMCS MAGNIFICENT—When you first see an aircraft land on a carrier you will be convinced the pilot will run off the end long before he can get stopped.

You are sure he will cover the entire 700 feet of landing deck and plunge off the bow into the sea.

Actually when this ship took aboard her Avenger squadron in Juan de Fuca Strait this morning the planes roared over the stern at a speed of 75 knots—and stopped in less than 80 feet, caught by arrester gear.

A thrilled audience of 162 Venture cadets and a group of Victoria businessmen, directors of the Armed Forces Leave Centre, watched the pilots bring their heavy reconnaissance and anti-submarine craft aboard with a bounce and a sudden stop.

Despite adverse weather conditions—there was little or no wind—all aircraft came aboard safely. There were six "wave offs" as the planes made their landing approaches. One pilot made three attempts before successfully landing.

Lack of wind made it impossible to take aboard the faster-flying Sea Fury planes.

They were to make another attempt later when they reach the Gulf of Georgia.

Meanwhile, the Furies proceeded to Sea Island for refueling.

Two Esquimalt ships, HMCS Crusader and New Glasgow, are acting as escorts and plane guards.

Perhaps the most interested young spectator aboard is 10-year-old Michael Welland, son of Capt. Robert Welland, commanding officer of HMCS Venture, who was a guest of his uncle, Lieut.-Cmdr. Craig Campbell, first lieutenant of the Magnificent.

Damage Heavy

Halloween accidents, mostly due to fireworks, sent five children and one adult to city hospitals Saturday night and Sunday.

Firemen were busied with false alarms, a series of small fires and one big one, as well as several gushing hydrants.

Police were harried with vandalism which resulted in several thousands of dollars in property damage, "higher than most years," according to city police chief John Blackstock.

HIT IN EYE

Here are the names of the injured:

David Woodley, nine, 1315 Clover, still in Jubilee Hospital, is in "good" condition with an eye injury from an exploding firecracker.

Patsy Jacobson, 10, 333 Plaskett, was burned on her left thigh when a sparkler ignited her nylon slip. She was discharged after treatment.

Barry McKay, eight, 2465 Foul Bay Road, was also sent home after nurses at Jubilee treated his wrist which he had cut on a sword which was part of a costume.

Dick Tucker, 10, Royal Oak, received a singed eyelid and specks of powder in his eye from a firecracker. He was released after treatment.

Penny Rogers, seven, of Jordan River was cared for at St. Joseph's and released after she was burned on the right side of the face with fireworks.

BROKE HIS ANKLE

Jubilee authorities added that a man, whose name was not disclosed, suffered a broken ankle while chasing youngsters who had been creating a nuisance at the rear of his home.

Another woman stumbled into an open manhole and bruised her shins and shoulders but did not go to hospital. Manhole covers were removed by pranksters all over the district.

Most serious damage was due to fire which destroyed an abandoned frame dwelling at the foot of Constance Street in Esquimalt. Esquimalt and navy fire departments attended. The building was due to be razed, according to police.

TREES UPROOTED

Worst vandalism was recorded on "Moss" Street, between Rockland and Dallas where 25 small boulevard trees were torn out by hoodlums. "If the culprits could be caught the branches could still be put to good use," Chief Blackstock suggested.

Wire gates, fences, street signs and a mail box were torn down in other parts of the city. Rocks claimed windows in many sections with Oaklands and Spring Ridge schools heaviest hit.

Two home-made bombs appeared. One was found in a bushed area by police and another, which failed to explode, was tossed through a window.

One street barricade and an old telephone pole had to be cleared from city streets. Several transit containers in the downtown area were set alight by smouldering firecrackers.

ASK THE TIMES

Q.—Will you please tell me what day of the week March 22, 1927 was? P.C.C.

A.—It was a Tuesday. That day the eyes of the whole world were on Shanghai. The Daily Times' front page carried an eight-column banner line reading: "Shanghai Foreign Area Safely Guarded." The day before, the Times had reported: "Canfonese army now holds Shanghai." British troops were helping troops of the other nations represented in the International Settlement hold off hordes of fighting and looting Chinese who were threatening the lives and property of the Settlement. The confused and bloody civil war of China was at its height.

'Silver' Plastic Cutlery
For Small Girl's Gift

By PENNY SAVER

I got a peek at a kiddie's birthday party the other day. What fun they had when the tiny honor guest began to open her presents. She was a lucky girl, for she received so many gifts . . . but do you know what she loved best of all? A gift that cost only 98 cents!

It was really an unusual present—a set of "silver" in a walnut chest . . . just like her mommy's! The four-piece settings of silver . . . knives, forks and spoons . . . are, in reality, plastic. But the plastic is so treated that it looks just like silver. It has a real metallic appearance that fooled even me until I picked one up and felt its light weight.

The chest is, of course, only cardboard, but has been made in a very good imitation of walnut grain. Inside it is turquoise, with a matt finish to give the appearance of velvet lining . . . and remember, I said it costs you only 98 cents! Any little girl would love to receive one for her birthday . . . or for Christmas.

Play bridge? Then you know what a necessity ash trays are. The thoughtful hostess will place one at the seat of each guest.

If you suddenly realize you won't have enough trays to go round, and must buy some more, you might as well get special bridge ash trays while you're at it.

I spotted some dandy little ones today, so if you're interested, I'll tell you all about them.

They are small, triangular-shaped trays of heavy Czechoslovakian glass. Painted on the bottoms of them are hearts, clubs, diamonds and spades . . . one on each tray. Buy a set of four for 79 cents.

Incidentally, the four trays are boxed very nicely, if you've ideas of making them a gift to a bridge fiend friend!

$95 Raised at Tea
Of Firemen's WA

The sum of $95 was realized by Langford Volunteer Firemen's Women's Auxiliary, at a tea and sale of work, Wednesday afternoon, in the recreational rooms of the fire hall.

Mrs. Rodney Bayles, who opened the affair, was introduced by president, Mrs. R. Limer, who was also general convener.

Tea arrangements were made by Mrs. J. Costin and toys were sold under the supervision of Mrs. A. M. Robertson and Mrs. R. Sewell. A table of home cooking was convoked by Mrs. R. LeQuenne and Mrs. S. Omdal. Mrs. R. Bayles and Mrs. H. McKenzie were in charge of contests.

GIRL GUIDES

Langford—A Halloween masquerade party was held Thursday evening in St. Matthew's Church Hall by First Langford Girl Guide Company, when guests were members of the Brownie Pack. Special guests were Mrs. F. J. Willway, who was examiner for Guides being tested for their hostess badges. Passing the test were patrol leaders Cecile McIntosh, Theresa Cushing, Anne Humphries and Beth Bustin. Games were enjoyed and a supper was served to 40 Guides and Brownies. Miss Willway played the grand march and prizes for costumes were awarded to Sharon Ruce, Indian; Heather Thomas, Piep Piper; Kristin Goodmansson, British Guiana dress; Joan Hicks, hobo; Joan Humphries, Brown Owl; and Marcia Matthias, Spanish lady.

Fall Bazaar

Oak Bay Chapter, No. 42, Order of Eastern Star, will hold its fall bazaar on Wednesday in the Redfern Hall, 1602 Redfern Street. Mrs. Elizabeth Reston, past matron, will open the bazaar at 2 p.m. There will be home cooking, aprons, wood and fancywork, novelties and vegetable stalls. Tea will be served.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Bra Must Be Fitted
To Do Its Job Right

It is just about as unsatisfactory to buy a brassiere over the counter as it would be to buy a toupe without trying it on. Yet many women go into a store, look at different styles, select a bra, give their size, and walk out with it under their arm before it ever touches their bust.

This is a most foolish thing to do, although all of us have done it once or twice in our lives when in a great rush. As a habit this is not only bad for your silhouette but may permanently damage your bustline. Even more important it may actually be dangerous to pinch or squeeze or bruise the delicate tissues of the bust. I have felt comfort until last because many women will endure any discomfort short of real pain if they feel that it makes them look better.

Fortunately the brassiere which fits you individually will make your bustline most attractive and you most comfortable. When the idea of molding and uplifting the bust with brassieres first came on the market, there were some weird results.

I know one middle-aged man who became worried about himself because he found that he was suddenly always conscious of women's busts as he walked along the street. He felt that he was degenerating because he had never made a habit of this before. He was greatly reassured when told that it was all due to the new-wired bras which made it impossible not to notice busts.

When these brassieres first appeared on the market women were so happy to learn that a sagging bust could be lifted that they went a little hay-wire and wore garments which made them look as though they had a bust they would have been trying to correct, had it been natural.

Today the uplift brassiere has become a highly scientific and personally fitted garment which gives a woman a bustline which is natural but lovely, and gives the bust the support it requires.

Many salesladies would like to fit you individually but you do not give them time to do so. Others are uninformed or lax in their job. I have had so many questions about how to know what size in bra and cup women require that I am

Let Doctor Impress Girl
With Importance of Health

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

Young people frequently do not understand the importance of taking care of their health. A doctor can often make them see the light better than parents can. A woman writes:

Hurlock

She is very beautiful and very popular. Since she graduated from high school she has had a job which pays her very well. I have never asked her to pay board, as my husband earns enough to support the family. So, my daughter spends all her money for clothes and good times. That is my problem.

"She is out every night, often until midnight or later. She goes on dates with boys, and if she has no date she goes with one of her girl friends. I maintain she doesn't get enough sleep, even though she says she 'catches up' on Saturday and Sunday mornings by sleeping late. Then, she is so anxious to keep thin that she just nibbles. I tell her she isn't eating enough to keep a bird alive and she just calls me old-fashioned. How can I make her see that she will ruin her health if she goes on this way?"

(A) The chances are that you will never be able to convince her that she will ruin her health unless she gets adequate sleep and proper nourishment. Surely you have learned by now that most teenagers—even those old enough to hold down jobs—think they know more than their parents do.

However, she would doubtless take advice from your doctor, provided he is a young, up-to-date doctor. If your family doctor is your age or older, he will understand your problem and can recommend a young doctor who can talk to her about her strength and dissipating her reserve.

If you insisted that your daughter assume some of the responsibilities of the home, even if you do not ask her to contribute something to her keep at home. It would be good training and experience for her as well as being good for her health.

Auxiliary to Buy Lights, Chairs

It was decided at meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to Royal Jubilee Hospital to buy two infra-red lights and an ultra-violet lamp at a total cost of $300 to be used in the X-ray and physiotherapy department, also four easy chairs for patient rooms. Announcement was also made that 41 articles were completed at sewing meetings in October.

Mrs. L. Hobbs, Mrs. F. Brown and Mrs. E. Whittaker were named to the nominating committee and it was suggested that any member interested in St. Alban's Ladies' Guild, Tuesday, at 2 p.m., committee room. . . . Gonzales Chapter room. . . . at 10.30 a.m., home of Mrs. Ferris, 1284 Beach Drive. . . . St. John's Evening Branch, Women's Auxiliary, Tuesday at 8, Fireside Room.

A Golden Wedding Celebrated

Friday marked the 50th anniversary of their wedding day for Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lane, 2881 Inlet Avenue. They were married Oct. 29, 1904, at Bishop's Stortford, Herts, Eng., and came to Victoria in 1908, where they have lived ever since. Mr. Lane is a retired CPR employee and the couple have three sons living—Bert, at Royal Oak; Leslie, Admirals Road, and Capt. M. O. (Barney) Lane of Meaford, Ont. One son, Douglas, was lost at sea in Second World War. There are 10 grandchildren. A small reception for old friends and neighbors was held in the afternoon, and in the evening a family reunion at their home. Mrs. C. R. Walker and Mrs. J. Florence, both old friends, poured tea and coffee, and three granddaughters, Mrs. A. Beattie and Misses Pat and Sharon Lane, served.

4-Year Jail Term

YOKOHAMA, Japan. (Reuters)—Susumu Saeki, 41-year-old laborer, was sentenced today to four years' imprisonment for attempting to assassinate Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida last August. Saeki was arrested near Yoshida's residence at Oiso, near Tokyo. He was carrying an hand grenade and a knife.

Trick-or-Treat Befogs Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—A five-year-old girl unwittingly pulled off the city's biggest Halloween "prank" in years. And she did it while asleep.

A search party that at times numbered about 1,000 persons started searching fog-shrouded North Vancouver Saturday when little Sheila Sorenson was reported missing from her home. The search continued right through the height of Halloween celebrations Saturday night and early Sunday.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Henning Sorenson found daughter Sheila asleep in the basement of their home.

It is estimated China has 217,000,000 acres under cultivation for 500,000,000 people compared to 365,000,000 acres in the United States for one-third of the population.

Viscount Airliner Crashes on Test Run

MELBOURNE, Australia. (AP)—A new Vickers Viscount turboprop airliner, operated by seven senior staff members of Trans-Australia Airlines who were learning to fly the ship, crashed and burned 70 miles north of here Sunday. Three pilot captains perished. Five other persons aboard, including the eight-year-old son of one of the crew, escaped.

Mother, Son Killed

GRENfell, Sask. (CP)—A highway collision near here Saturday night took the lives of a mother and her young son. Three others were admitted to hospital with minor injuries.

The victims were Mrs. Elsie Weatherall and her son, Dale, of Grenfell.

In hospital here are Cyril Redfern, Telford Payton and Oscar Hahn, all of the Grenfell district.

Belgians Ready to Welcome First Martians Unless They Turn Out Garden Variety

BRUSSELS (Reuters)—A national "welcoming committee" to greet the first men from Mars to arrive on Belgian soil was formed today.

The committee, organized by two government employees, plans to welcome the Martians with a champagne party, procession through Brussels, church service and torchlight night clubs.

If the Martians turn out to be "evolved plants," they will be housed in the botanical gardens, the founding member said.

HOME-MADE BOMB BURST COSTS BOY BOTH HANDS

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 17-year-old youth lost both his hands Sunday when a home-made bomb exploded prematurely in the garage at his suburban North Burnaby home.

Police said the youth, Robert Langerstrom, apparently was about to ignite the bomb when it exploded while he held it. The explosion rattled dishes and windows in neighboring homes.

The youth was rushed to hospital where his condition was described as fairly good.

FRANCE RUSHES PARATROOPERS

Terrorist Gang Strikes in Algiers

From UP and AP Dispatches
ALGIERS, Algeria—Premier Pierre Mendes-France today ordered three battalions of paratroopers to Algeria to deal with a sudden outbreak of anti-French terrorism.

At least 12 persons were killed in a well-organized, two-hour terrorist sweep on police posts and public buildings throughout Algeria early this morning.

Damage was caused by bombs and fire in at least 40 separate attacks. Telephone lines were cut and the Algiers-Constantine railroad damaged.

In another French North African territory, Tunisia, it was announced today that two French security guards had been killed and 10 wounded for two years.

Rail Switchman Dies In Vancouver Fog

Transportation Facilities Tied Up
As Heavy Shroud Envelopes Mainland

VANCOUVER (BUP)—A young Canadian Pacific Railway switchman, 24-year-old Ronald Candido, was killed when he was crushed between a box car and a platform today.

Candido apparently failed to see the box car because of heavy fog which enveloped the CPR yards.

The fog spread thickly over the lower mainland during the weekend, causing disruptions of air and sea transportation.

The fog caused numerous ship groundings, grounded aircraft and disrupted North Vancouver ferry schedules.

The worst fog of the season Saturday night was followed by a sunny Indian summer day before the white shroud fell over the area again near midnight.

The fog disabled both North Vancouver ferries while they were feeling their way across Burrard Inlet Saturday night. The first ferry was taken off the route for installation of a new propeller when she struck a floating log.

HITS DRYDOCK
A second ferry had to be replaced by another after banging into Burrard drydock while inching into the North Vancouver slip.

All traffic was grounded at the international airport after a Victoria-bound Trans-Canada Airlines plane cleared at 10:50 p.m.

Two deep-sea freighters, the inbound Montana and the outbound Java, nudged each other Saturday afternoon as they passed under the First Narrows Bridge but the damage was slight and both ships continued on their courses.

The tugboat Palomar from Bellingham was escorted back to her home port after she sprang a leak off the Point Grey shoals.

The weather office said there would be more fog tonight.

ONLY 26 NON-OWNER VOTERS ON RECORD OAK BAY LIST

Approximately 6,500 voters are registered for voting in the forthcoming municipal election in Oak Bay.

Of this figure, which is still subject to change until the Court of Revision sits on Nov. 15, all but 26 are registered owners of property—one licenseholder and 25 house-holders.

Registration closed Friday night. Only six took advantage of the change of the Elections Act which allows spouses of registered owners to vote.

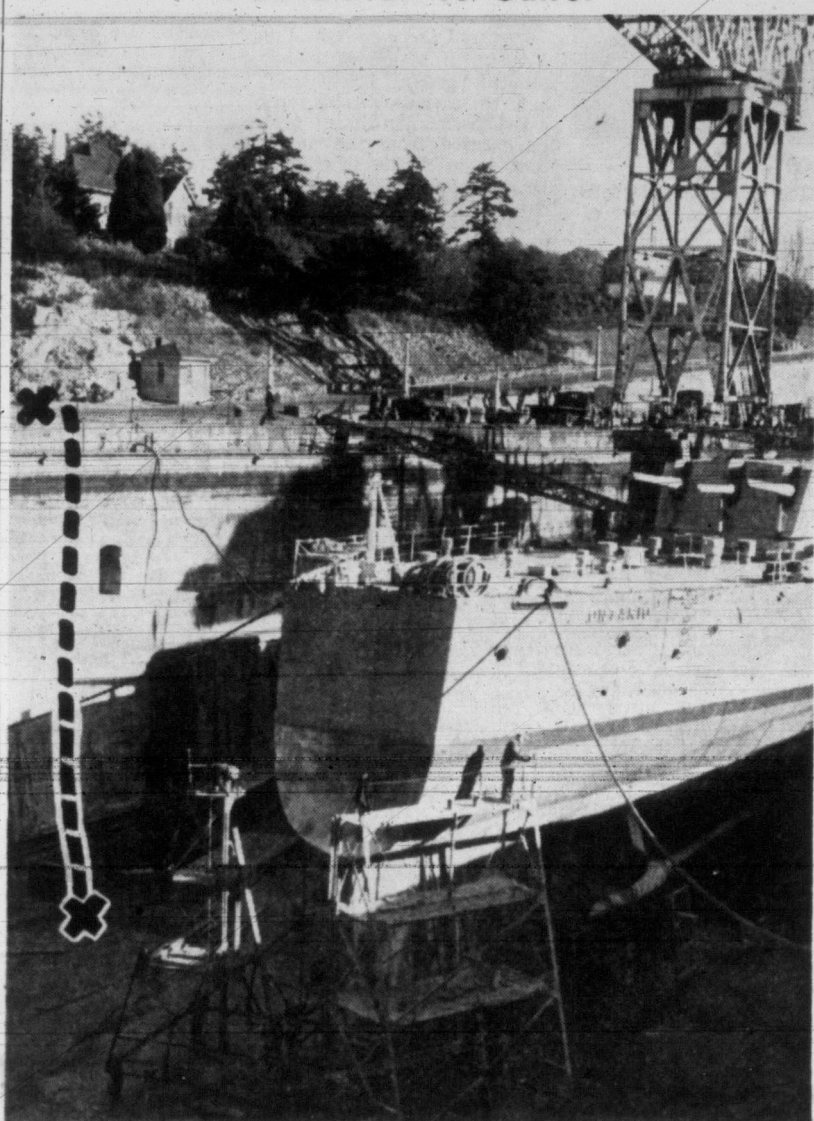

Last year a total of 6,305 people were on the voters' list.

Fall Fatal to Sailor

Naval Rating Falls to Death In Drydock

Ontario Crew Member
Victim of Plunge

Brian Alton Block, 19-year-old able seaman from Daysland, Alta., attached to HMCS Ontario was instantly killed when he plunged 50 feet to the floor Government Graving Dock at HMC Dockyard Saturday night.

The body will be removed to Sands Mortuary for burial arrangements, naval officials reported. An inquest will be held this week with Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, presiding.

According to naval officials, the youth was returning to his ship after being on shore for a short leave.

After paying off his taxi, Block is reported to have avoided the safety railing along the edge of the drydock while trying to get back on the ship and fell headlong into dry basin where the "Big O" is undergoing refitting.

He is the son of Mrs. Lillian H. Block of Daysland.

Death was due to multiple fractures. Block had only been in the navy a short time.

A naval inquiry was to be held this afternoon to probe circumstances of the fatal plunge.

3 OTHERS KILLED

Three other persons died violently in B.C. during the weekend.

Week-end mishaps killed Ray Fowler, Salmon-Arm, killed when his car overturned; Mrs. Janet Plastino, 52, Vancouver, hit by a car near Abbotsford; and David Severinski, 22, who died when his tractor overturned in a water-filled ditch near Port Hammond.

Americans Go To Polls Tomorrow As 'Remarkable' Campaign Ends

Compiled from UP and AP Dispatches

WASHINGTON — The 20th century's most remarkable off-year election campaign ends today with President Eisenhower leading a Republican blitz to create victory out of what seemed a few days ago to be probable defeat.

Tomorrow is election day. But most of the noise came from the campaigners themselves. Apathetic or just silent, the voters were showing few signs of enthusiasm in the eve of the election that will decide whether President Eisenhower will have a Congress controlled by his own Republican party or by the Democratic opposition.

The massive Republican effort was compressed within the final 10 days of the campaign. It came too late for results—if any—to be sensed by pollsters and pulse feelers. In fact, James A. Farley, former Democratic national chairman and an old political pro, maintains that events in the final two weeks of a campaign change few if any votes.

Aside from this, however, the campaign consensus has been that the 1954 Democratic tide was sufficient to shift the House and, perhaps, the Senate, to Democratic control when the 84th Congress meets next January.

Meantime, Mr. Eisenhower had put in motion a call-your-neighbor telephone campaign to get out the vote. He called 10 Republicans and asked each to call 10 others. Project that through six groups, assuming Mitchell's strategists count all hands do their duty, and you've put in 10,000,000 telephone calls. Republican national committee headquarters said the thing was snowballing country-wide.

ated with a "Democratic Walk-athon," in which he telegraphed party leaders and candidates asking each to walk to the homes of 10 persons urging election of a Democratic Congress.

Present Congressional Line-up—Senate: 49 Republicans, 46 Democrats, one Independent. House: 218 Republicans, 212 Democrats, one Independent, four vacancies.

Congressional Control—Senate: Democrats must win 20 of 31 contested races. Republicans can keep control by winning 14. (Six Democrats have no opposition). House: 218 seats needed to control. (Only two Republicans are unopposed; 71 Democrats unopposed and others, notably in south, face only token opposition).

Present Governors Line-up—28 Republicans, 20 Democrats. (Democrat Edmund S. Muskie elected in Maine, Sept. 13).

BALTIMORE (Reuters)—The Baltimore Sun describes Queen Mother Elizabeth as "a royal visitor who personifies the word gracious."

"For more than six centuries the British people have used the word 'gracious' as a courteous epithet in referring to their kings and queens," the newspaper says in an editorial.

"It is a word which admirably fits our present royal visitor, Queen."

Her Majesty, Queen Mother Elizabeth of England.

"Through all the variety of public appearances she has gratified her hosts by showing evident appreciation for her cordial reception and for the many attractions New York City has to offer visitors. 200 Aircraft, 25 Ships Seek 42 Lost on Flight

From AP and UP Dispatches

NEW YORK—More than 200 planes and 25 surface ships criss-crossed a 120-mile strip of cloud-spattered Atlantic Ocean from here to the Azores today for a navy transport plane presumed to have gone down with 42 persons aboard.

The navy super-constellation, with four women and five children among its 21 passengers, has been unreported since 11 p.m. (EST), (8 p.m. PST) Saturday, 90 minutes after it took off from Patuxent, Md., for the Azores and Africa. Its fuel would have been exhausted at 10 a.m. (7 a.m. PST) Sunday.

In one of the greatest air-sea searches in history, navy, coast guard and air force planes soared above navy and coast guard ships on the turbulent seas seeking a sign of the giant plane or its emergency life rafts.

Crews of commercial ships and planes joined in the search as their craft crossed the broad Atlantic path of the downed plane.

In addition planes from England, the European continent and North Africa joined in the needle-in-the-ocean hunt. They swept back and forth across the 120-mile band on the 2,000-mile great circle route from the New Jersey coast to the Azores.

The aircraft carrier Kilauea sent the escort carrier Kilauea sent their planes aloft in the search. Air force B-29's from Prestwick, Scotland, joined coast guard search planes from Argentina, Newfoundland, Bermuda and U.S. bases.

The search began at 1 a.m. Sunday after the plane had failed twice to make its scheduled hourly reports on position. Navy spokesmen said it would continue until the secretary of the navy orders otherwise, presumably not until the last possibility of survival is exhausted.

LOST POSITION
The plane left Patuxent at 9:30 p.m. Saturday, and made only one position report—from about 480 miles east of Baltimore at 11 p.m.

The ill-fated flight was the second attempt made by those aboard to get to the Azores and Port Lyautey in Africa. The navy said they had taken off earlier Saturday, in another plane but had to turn back 2½ hours later when the plane developed trouble. They transferred to the new-missing plane and started out again.

Many of the persons aboard were returning to duty after leaves or were reporting overseas on new assignments. About half of the 21-man crew was to have debarked in the Azores to pick up another plane.

A spokesman for the department said nothing could be done at sea.

"We can't turn him back out in the straits. We shall have to interview him when he lands, like any other entrant. Until we do that I have no idea of what action we can take."

Seamen Win Overtime Pay

The majority report of a federal conciliation board issued in Ottawa today recommended against any wage increase for 750 employees of three west coast shipping companies.

It recommended, however, that overtime pay be increased to $1.32 an hour from $1.17.

The board was established last August to investigate a contract dispute between the Seafarers' International Union and the companies—the Canadian Pacific Railway's British Columbia coast steamship service, Canadian National Steamships and Union Steamships Ltd.

The union requested a 12½-per-cent wage boost and an increase in the overtime rate to $1.50 an hour.

The majority report also recommended that Union Steamships pay a subsistence rate of $2 daily to standby workers when no meals are made available, similar to allowances paid by the other two companies.

A minority report by the union nominee on the board said wages should be increased 10 per cent, a boost of $18 to $20 a month for most employees.

New Liquor System Set for Rural Areas

All unorganized territory in the province has been brought under terms of the new Liquor Act.

Plebscites will be instigated by the provincial government in the electoral districts concerned so that residents can decide on what outlets, if any, for sale of beer, wine and liquor should be licensed.

Haida Home

HALIFAX (CP)—The destroyer Haida, champion "train-buster" of the Canadian navy, came home from her second tour of Korean duty today.

Rain and fog shrouded the harbor but 300 wives, children and friends lined the jetties and ships' whistles blasted a welcome.

SUNDAY'S 61 HOTTEST
OCT. 31 IN 15 YEARS

Victorians took to the outdoors Sunday as a warm sun sent temperatures soaring, recording the hottest October 31 in 15 years.

Thermometers rose to a pleasant 61 degrees, almost equal to the all-time high of 1939 when the mercury hit 61.4.

Sunday was the warmest day recorded since October 15 when the temperature was 62. Average high for October 31 is 52, nine points below the week-end reading.

Four Get Suspended Sentences

NEW YORK (AP)—Four Puerto Rican nationalist leaders who pleaded guilty to seditious conspiracy charges got off with six-year suspended sentences today.

Last Tuesday, 13 other nationalists who were found guilty after a trial got six-year sentences but were ordered to serve them. U.S. attorney Edward Lumbard said he felt the four were "entitled to consideration in view of the full co-operation they gave the government."

Grouse Mountain Simmers at 88

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP)—Bathing suits replaced ski togs at the 5,000-foot level of Grouse Mountain Sunday as the temperature shot up to 88 degrees.

The maximum reading at sea level was only 53 degrees. The weatherman said the upper levels were warmed because they were not in contact with cool ground and westerly winds.

Three Vancouver Bandits Foiled

VANCOUVER (CP)—Three masked bandits who tied up a dairy night checker early today fled empty handed when they were unable to enter the office.

The checker, Terry Smith, 25, said the men surprised him, as he was about to lock the main door after dispatching milk wagons.

All three wore Halloween masks and the leader pointed a revolver at Smith and said, "This is a holdup. Don't make a sound."

B.C. Observers on 24-Hour Watch

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia's 3,300-member Ground Observer Corps today went on a 24-hour watch system, it was announced by Sqdn. Ldr. C. H. C. Hoseney, commanding officer of the western Canada division.

The new schedule ties in the B.C. corps, responsible for the lower provincial area, with their counterparts in the U.S., which have been on 24-hour watch for the last two years.

In another French North African territory, Tunisia, it was announced today that two French security guards had been killed and 10 wounded Sunday in a clash with armed Tunisian rebels, eight of whom were killed.

The wave of attacks on Algeria, where there has been a long spell of comparative calm, was believed to have been carried out by nationalist groups in an attempt to focus world attention on their political claims.

Unlike Tunisia and Morocco, Algeria is an integral part of metropolitan France. It has been virtually free of terrorism for two years.

Three persons died violently on the B.C. mainland during the week-end.

Liberal Chief Wants Premier

To Repudiate SC League Motion

VANCOUVER (CP)—Liberal leader Arthur Laing today asked Premier Bennett to repudiate immediately the Social Credit League resolution charging civil servants with "wilful inefficiency."

"This matter can be cleared up only by a complete repudiation by the premier himself," Mr. Laing said in a statement.

"He shouldn't lose a minute making it."

Mr. Laing made the demand in commenting on a statement by H. W. Sperling, president of Fort George Social Credit Constituency Association, one of the men behind the resolution.

passed at the Social convention. Mr. Sperling said Saturday the resolution wasn't a "blanket condemnation of the civil service but inefficiency 'may go as high as deputy ministers."

"Here we have a little local president saying this may go as high as deputy ministers," Mr. Laing said. "It puts the ridiculous resolution in a worse than ever light. The public has a right to know if ministers are to be guided in dismissals and promotions by such people."

It recommended, however, that overtime pay be increased to $1.32 an hour from $1.17.

The board was established last August to investigate a contract dispute between the Seafarers' International Union and the companies—the Canadian Pacific Railway's British Columbia coast steamship service, Canadian National Steamships and Union Steamships Ltd.

The union requested a 12½-per cent wage boost and an increase in the overtime rate to $1.50 an hour.

42 on U.S. Transport
Missing Since Saturday

From AP and UP Dispatches

NEW YORK—More than 200 planes and 25 surface ships criss-crossed a 120-mile strip of cloud-spattered Atlantic Ocean from here to the Azores today for a navy transport plane presumed to have gone down with 42 persons aboard.

The navy super-constellation, with four women and five children among its 21 passengers, has been unreported since 11 p.m. (EST), (8 p.m. PST) Saturday, 90 minutes after it took off from Patuxent, Md., for the Azores and Africa.

In addition planes from England, the European continent and North Africa joined in the needle-in-the-ocean hunt. They swept back and forth across the 120-mile band on the 2,000-mile great circle route from the New Jersey coast to the Azores.

Crews of commercial ships and planes joined in the search as their craft crossed the broad Atlantic path of the downed plane.
